If the mustang is somewhat deficient in the sort of conformation required for modern horse sports—if we prefer a breedier head, longer neck, more sloping shoulders, and more level quarters—we should remember that it is only our own neglect which is to blame. Now that the total number have been so much reduced we have an unparalleled opportunity to make sure that only the best stallions remain uncut. Who among us will now have the vision and ability to preserve and improve this unique and essential breed?

Ox Ridge Dressage Classes

Dear Sir:

When asked to judge Dressage at the Ox Ridge Horse Show I accepted with pleasure. I am much interested in Dressage and spent a good deal of time with it at Fort Riley and other Cavalry posts in the good old days.

On arriving at the Ox Ridge Club, expecting the usual small dressage classes that have been the order at the various shows in former years, it was a revelation to find 28 entries in one class, and 21 in another. There were six different rides in seven well-filled classes. Mr. Carlos Fahrenburg of Venezuela and I spent three days, from nine a.m. until late afternoon, judging these.

Mr. Fahrenburg was most pleasant to judge with and was as impressed as I with the numbers and standard of performances. Mr. Richard Waetjen, Sunnyfield and Mr. Harry Gilhuys, Ox Ridge, have done a fine teaching job. The riders seemed to know what they were doing, and got the most out of their horses, which is a great step forward. There were none of the erstwhile rough exhibitions with horses bent wrong and resisting all the way. Mr. Gilhuys and Mr. Heukerot had riders mounted on all types of horses, some of which had little natural ability, but even the riders of these gave creditable rides. From somewhere came a little girl on a fat pony, doing as well as the pony's gaits and conformation would allow. It looks as though we will be well supplied with Olympic riders in the future.

To Mrs. Barney, Mrs. Serrell and Miss Lynn Babcock go many congratulations for their interest and hard work in getting this division so well advanced in their part of the country and for rounding up so many exhibitors.

Sincerely,
Mrs. J. T. Cole

HOME ON THE RANGE

One of the most shameful chapters in the history of American livestock has been the brutal slaughter of the herds of mustangs roaming the ranges of our Western states. Manufacturers of dog and cat food, who formerly used old or incapacitated draft horses to supply the meat in their various products, have had to turn elsewhere as these animals have been replaced in cities and on farms by trucks and tractors. The butchers who have sold them mustang meat instead have employed mass murder in order to meet the demand—their method being entirely too brutal for detailed description here. Largely because of the dedicated persistence of one woman, Mrs. Velna Johnston, the public has become thoroughly aroused and legislation is now pending in Congress to put a stop to these practices.

Nevertheless, like the buffalo and the longhorns, our herds of mustangs have been largely depleted. They have played a major part in the history of this country. Without them the settling of the West and its adaptation as a cattle and sheep country could never have been accomplished—even though they also furnished mounts to the various Indian tribes resisting the process. Their ability to survive hardships of every description—hunger, thirst, heat, cold and natural enemies—particularly since they were descended from domesticated stock, is without parallel.

The mustang is much more than an historical survival, however. He carries in his veins blood which American horsemen can ill afford to lose. Since the white men first came to these shores we have developed a number of indigenous breeds, the Narragansett Pacer, the Morgan, the Standardbred, the American Saddle Horse, the Tennessee Walking Horse, and the Quarter Horse. Only the latter carries extensive crosses of mustang blood, however, and these are being constantly diluted by crosses of Thoroughbred blood.

Not even in the bluegrass regions of Kentucky and Virginia, limed and fertilised as they are, can we produce a horse with feet like the mustang which can run sound and unshod over the roughest terrain. There is no other breed that can do so much work on so little feed. At the same time we must remember that the mustang is the product of his environment. Take him away from his natural range and he would lose these qualities in only two or three generations.

How To Become A Steward

Raleigh Burroughs

In the past 20 years I have received many letters from young lads (and lassies) who wish to know what steps should be taken in order to realize a lifetime ambition to become a jockey (or jockess). After answering 1,000 (estimated), I composed a form letter pointing out that the way to get a job in any profession is to go to the top man in the racket and ask him if he needs a hired hand. "If," I appended to my three-paragraph course in how to become a rider, "the top mandees not have an opening, go to the fellow you regard as next on the list, and so on down the line."

If this has caused swarms of small, wiry creatures to haunt Mr. Fitz and Mr. Max Hirsch, I am sorry, but it has taken a load off me.

It grieves me slightly when I realize that, in all the years I have been pointing the road to saddle stardom, no boy (or girl) has written me saying, "I followed your instructions to the letter and am now only three wins back of Hartack in the race for the national riding championship. The enclosed check for $50,000 expresses to a degree my heartfelt appreciation of your valuable advice."

Even without the check, no letters have arrived.

Not A Woman's Work

My advice to girls wishing to become jocks was deliberately discouraging. To the more persistent ones, I explained that, before the races start, all riders are locked up in a receiving barn, where the rules regarding costuming are lax. During the periods between rides (I went on) reinsmen indulge in such games as whist, cribbage, etc. Even a small, thin girl, tiptoeing from shower to rubbing table, might upset the concentration of the gamblers, and the somnolent atmosphere of the chamber.

This stopped all but the most persistent, whose addresses and telephone numbers I keep on file.

In recent months, I am gratified to report, the tenor of my incoming correspondence has changed, (if you can forget the letter from the girl who would like thumbnail histories of 19 horses and pedigrees of 22 others; and if you can't forget it, I can).

It may be that I am playing to a higher-class clientele. Whatever the reason, people now are writing in to learn where to find the first rung that leads up the ladder to the stewards' stand. Maybe some of these are the kids I told how to become jockeys 20 years ago. I like to think that; and a wave of sentiment sweeps over me as I realize that "my boys" are coming up in the world, if only in their aims.

I'm certainly not going to let 'em down. I am personally acquainted with just as many stewards as jockeys, and some of them I knew when they weren't stewards. By tracing the careers of some of these, I have learned that there are three ways to find that "first rung."

Direct Approach

The simplest is the direct approach. Wash your face - behind the ears and all, check your nails (finger), shine your shoes and try to have some kind of a crease in your pants. Then pick your track, say, Aqueduct. (We've got to think high.) Approach Mr. John W. Hanes and inquire, pleasantly, but with dignity, "Do you need any stewards right now?"

Mr. Hanes will be astonished by your forthrightness and initiative. He may even be speechless for a moment or two. He may not hire you right away. Whatever his reaction, he will be impressed, and will recall meeting you often in the years to come.

Now let's say, for the sake of argument, that Mr. Hanes doesn't hire you. The next step is to another track. Don't try Belmont, because you'll run into Mr. Hanes again, and you've already impressed him. It doesn't do to impress the same gentleman too often.

Try another track in another state, and if you fail there, try another. There are 114 tracks listed in the AMERICAN RACING MANUAL. Before you start out, it might be well to acquire one of those foreign cars that go 40 miles on a gallon. It will be a worth-while economy.

If you think all this sounds ridiculous, go ahead and ridicule, but I can produce a presiding steward that started out just about as outlined.

He didn't try Aqueduct for his initial pitch, but he DID walk into the office of a track manager and ask for a job. It happened that there was an opening in the mutuels department and the clerk of the scales had just departed for that place from whose bourne no traveler returns, and he was not expected back.

Took Two

The applicant assumed both posts, and there haven't been many periods since then when he was not officiating at one track or another. Also, he has run racecourses and handled publicity for them. Sometimes, he officiates, does the press agenting AND runs them.

He got where he is through his own initiative, submarine only a few close friends.

It is possible that another applicant, starting at the time and place my example

Aqueduct

Nine two-year-old fillies, headed by Meadowbrook Stable's odds-on favorite Little Tumbler, left the starting gate in the 54th running of The Astoria, a five and one half furlongs allowance stakes, carrying a $25,000 added purse at Aqueduct, Wed., July 13.

Little Tumbler's backers were not disappointed. The filly won with ease over A. G. Vanderbilt's Good Move, showing three panels of daylight to the place horse. Clara L. Ostriker's Really Sunthin was third and Wheatley Stable's Eastern Princess, fourth. She ran the 5 1/2 furlongs in 1.04 3/5.

Little Tumbler is a bay, by Royal Note-Fairy Dancer, by Blenheim, bred by T. O. Campbell. Charley Burr was in the saddle and W. R. Mitchell trained the filly. She collected $19,330 for her fourth triumph in six starts.

The Sheepshead Bay

Twelve 3-year-old and older horses turned out for the 2nd running of The Sheepshead Bay, a one and one-eighth miles turf handicap, on Saturday, July 17. The event carried a $25,000 added purse.

Jockey Ray York rode C. H. Palmer's *Tharp to a one and one half length victory over North Hill Farm's Misty Flight. Mrs. S. C. Clark, Jr.'s Shield Bearer was the show horse, and Idle Hour Farm's Julmar came in fourth. The winner was clocked at 1.49 for the 1 1/8 miles.

*Tharp is a bay 5-year-old horse, by Limekiln out of Mother Rectess, by His Reverence, bred by Mrs. H. G. Wellesley in Ireland. It was his first victory in four starts this year and he pocketed $18,907.50 for his first stakes purse in the United States. Trainer L. Laurin handled him.

Monmouth Park

Monmouth Park staged its 25th running of The Monmouth Handicap, a $100,000 classic of one and one quarter miles, for 3-year-olds and upwards, on Saturday, July 16. Nine answered the starter's call with Meadow Stable's First Landing, Eddie Arcaro up, in the role of favorite.

Maestro Arcaro rode First Landing to a one and one quarter panel score over E. Dolce's Manassa Mauler, and took home his fourth Monmouth Handicap 1st prize. Ada L. Rice's Talent Show was the show horse followed by W. A. Hanger's Whitley. The winner went the 1 1/4 miles in 2.02 4/5 over a fast track.

First Landing is a bay colt, 4 years old, by *Turn-to out of Hildene, by Bubbling Over, bred by his owner, C. T. Chenery. He added $71,650 to his career earnings, bringing the total to $786,767. Former polo pony and hunter handler J. H. "Casey" Hayes is his trainer.

TV viewers who saw this race got a bit of the inside picture of handicapping when

The odds-on favorite Berlo, owned by Foxcatcher Farm, was third and Cain Hoy Stable's Make Sail, fourth. The winner ran the 1 1/8 miles in 1.50 3/5 over a fast track. She was so little thought of in the betting that she paid her small following $90.40 for a two dollar investment.

Rash Statement is a dark brown filly by *Ambiorix-Hipparete, by *Pharamond II, bred by Mrs. R. W. Bell. She is trained by A. R. Hultz. She pocketed $46,112.50 for her second triumph out of ten starts for this year. It put her in the $100,000 winner class, with a total of $126,327.

Hollywood Park

The Charles S. Howard Stakes run on Tuesday, July 12, at Hollywood Park, drew only six 2-year-old colts and geldings for the five and one-half furlongs, $25,000 added feature. The first half of the eight race program was witnessed by several hundred politicians, who also enjoyed a buffet luncheon at the track, before resuming the business of the National Dem-

Delaware Park's publicity man, with tongue in cheek, captioned this picture as follows: This is a race track? Yes, it's the paddock grove area at Delaware Park - a tranquil, tree-studded area where many families like to gather (kiddies included) and enjoy an afternoon picnic style in addition to the races. Here, well removed from the bulk of the crowd in the stands, is a typical scene. Mom is reading the fashion pages of her favorite newspaper, dad probably is studying the form sheet, and the little guy in the crib has a shady spot with no problems and plenty of fresh air.

Rex Ellsworth's undefeated Olden Times made it four in a row when he scored a half length victory over Mr. and Mrs. G. D. King's Pappa's All. Neil S. McCarthy's Novalook finished third. The winner's time was 1.03 4/5 for the five and a half furlongs.

Olden Times is a bay colt by Relic out of *Djenne, by Djebel, bred by his owner. Willie Shoemaker was the reinsman. The effort was worth $15,500 net.

Coranado Handicap

Johnny Longden rode Golden Notes to take the measure of a field of seven 3-year-olds and upwards in the $15,000 added Coranado Handicap at Hollywood Park, on Thursday, July 14. Willie Shoemaker rode the place horse, Aliwar, and Pete Moreno was in the show slot on Ann's Knight.

the personable young announcer Kenny Roberts interviewed handicapper John P. Turner, Jr., before the race, who explained the assignment of weights. Mr. Turner looked very good as he had put 123 pounds on First Landing, the top weight for the starters. Ray Haight called the race and he also gave an excellent performance. Eddie Arcaro explained the running of the race from the video tape rerun and he gave a lucid account of his moves and thoughts while riding the winner. It was an excellent show and Monmouth president Amory Haskell, who got into the picture in the presentation scene, had every reason in the world to beam at the production put on by his organization.

Twelve 3-year-old fillies answered starter George R. Palmer's call for the 2nd running of The Oaks, a $50,000 added one and one eighth miles event, on Saturday, July 16.

Hurdle Racing At Monmouth

Neal Eskridge

The Monmouth National Hurdle, highlight of the first full week of the sport at the Jersey course, left observers equally divided over what the outcome would have been had not Mrs. Cordelia S. May's Be Moderate, the second choice, bobbled badly at the tenth and final jump.

Nine started in the $7,500 added mile and three-quarters event on July 13, including the Michael G. Walsh-trained entry of Charkitt Stable's Little Gil and Mrs. Vernon G. Cardy's Turpitude which was the post-time favorite, and the D. Michael Smithwick-trained pair of Grandview Stable's *Kandy-Sugar and Mrs. Theodora A. Randolph's Gem Ruby.

Jimmy Murphy sent Be Moderate to the front at once, but Tom Walsh and Little Gil stayed within three lengths at all stages. The race followed a pattern throughout, with Little Gil closing ground steadily between hurdles, only to lose it again as the vastly more experienced Be Moderate fenced more cleanly and maintained his strong stride coming away from each jump. *Kandy-Sugar, carrying heavyweight of 158 pounds and George H. Bostwick's Tuscarora raced a close-up third and fourth through the first seven jumps and none of the others ever entered contention.

Going down the backstretch the second time, *Kandy-Sugar stumbled to one knee at the eighth jump and unseated Paddy Smithwick. *Kandy-Sugar was on the outside and completely clear and Smithwick was able to walk away unscathed. But by this time, the crowd's attention was riveted on the two leaders and Mrs. Jack Grabosky's *Rose's Reject, a five-year-old English-bred horse literally flying past Tuscarora into third place around the turn. Little Gil led by half a length at the ninth jump but once again lost his advantage on landing. Again he forged slightly to the front nearing the final hurdle and he and Be Moderate headed over together with the fast-closing *Rose's Reject two lengths back. Then it happened. Be Moderate bobbed badly, weaved drunkenly for a couple of strides after recovering and barely held off *Rose's Reject for the place by less than a length as Little Gil crossed the wire three and a half lengths to the good.

It was reasonable to expect, Be Moderate's supporters claimed, that Mrs. May's four-year-old colt might have gained just the needed edge except for the final-jump mishap. Little Gil's adherents were just as convinced that the four-year-old owned by Charles W. Stitzer and Walsh would again have overcome any deficit he might have incurred and gone on to win anyhow.

All, however, were convinced that *Rose's Reject, trained by E. B. (Duke) Stewart, the veteran conditioner of flat runners and still part-time polo player, would bear watching in the future. All would be meeting again in two more weeks in the $22,000 Midsummer Hurdle Handicap at two miles for which Tower Hill Farm's *Langton Breeze had been top weighted at 160 pounds by Monmouth hurdle secretary Chris Wood, Jr.

Be A Honey Wins

Not a bit less exciting than the Monmouth National Hurdle was the mile and three-quarters allowance event two days later. The Walsh-trained entry of Wilshire Farm's Hermod, ridden by Tom Walsh, and Mrs. Lawrence W. Knapp, Jr.'s Nautilus, was favored, but only because it represented two chances. Mrs. Ogden Phipps' Gray Phantom, with Paddy Smithwick aboard, was also heavily supported. Meanwhile F. Eugene Dixon, Jr.'s Be A Honey, who had been prepped in a six-furlong flat race at Monmouth the week before, was all but ignored. Trainer Joe Nash had acquired Jimmy Hobales, who exercises the flat runners of trainer Pete Gacicia, including the champion filly Royal Native, and who had ridden Be A Honey to the four-year-old's best hurdle performances last season. Hobales came from Gacicia's Delaware Park quarters specifically for the ride.

As expected, Smithwick sent Gray Phantom into a healthy five-length lead at the start and he appeared to be going easily as the field passed the stands on the first circuit. But Gray Phantom unaccountably landed poorly at the fifth jump directly in front of the stands. He took a long time recovering as Hermod quickly went to the front. At the next jump at the head of the backstretch, Gray Phantom again bobbed badly and lost all hope. Nautilus, meanwhile, had come from well back to be running second to his stablemate, but Hobales was driving as early as the backstretch and it was apparent that he had dead aim on the entry. Nautilus tired slightly coming into the stretch and the crowd sensed that Be A Honey would be a distinct threat in the final quarter-mile. With Hobales putting his flat-riding experience to good use, Be A Honey finally drew even nearing the final hurdle and in a crescendo of sound from the crowd, irresistibly drew away after clearing number 10 for a three-quarter length triumph.

Montpelier's Nala Scores

The sport had been inaugurated for the season on July 8. In an allowance event at a mile and three quarters, Montpelier's Nala, a full brother to the same stable's flat stakes performer Nahodah, bested Be Moderate by three quarters of a length. After Mrs. John P. Jones' Latch dissipated a short lead on bobbling at the sixth hurdle, the race was strictly between Nala and Be Moderate with the former prevailing under Albert Foot. Nala,

SHORT ORDER JOCKEY

Jockey Larry Adams was the leading rider at Delaware Park last year. He is another example of the fact that people in racing come from all over. Adams graduated to racing from the Keeneland Race Track which is not at all unnatural. But, do you know what he was doing at Keeneland before he became a jockey? He was a short order cook in the track kitchen. I'll bet there have been more jockeys ending up as short order cooks than cooks ending up as jockeys.

Speaking of jockeys (this has nothing to do with Larry Adams or cooks or Keeneland), there was one in Australia a while back who must have had quite a sense of humor. He rode the second place horse and he lodged an objection against the winner. There is nothing wrong with that, but the objection was that the winning rider didn't salute the clerk of the scales before dismounting. The objection was overruled, of course.

HIGH PERCH AGAIN

New Yorker Herbert Allen returned to the U.S.A. after his recent purchase, High Perch, had won the two mile Winston Churchill Stakes at Hurst Park on June 6th, so missed seeing his good four-year-old score his second important success in a week.

A field of four came out for the 1 11/16 miles Coombe Stakes at Sandown Park. The former Italian champion Exar, England's sole hope for the Ascot Gold Cup, was at 9-4 on, with High Perch at the same odds against and the two others ignored. Taking the lead rounding the final bend into the stretch more than half a mile from home, High Perch ran on with great gameness to beat Exar by 1 1/2 lengths. A very well-bred horse by Alycidon out of Phaeonia, by Nearco, High Perch will not now contest the Churchill Stakes at Ascot in which he would have to carry 136 lb., but will probably race again later in England before being sent to the U.S.A.

IRISH HORSE FOR LAUREL INTERNATIONAL

Laurel president John Schapiro notified his office from Dublin that Chamour, champion three-year-old of Ireland and winner of the Irish Derby, will represent the Shamrock Isle in the ninth running of the $100,000 Laurel International on November 11.

The Irish-bred chestnut colt thus becomes the second entry for the invitationals championship event. The first was Bally Ache, the "Million Dollar Colt" and leading three-year-old in America.

Schapiro, in Ireland on the first leg of his five-week European tour in the interest of the Mile and a half Veteran's Day grass classic, said that F. Walter Burmann, the colt's owner, had enthusiastically accepted an invitation when the two met in Dublin.

Chamour is a son of Charnier, the Irish Derby winner of 1953 who also competed at Laurel the same year. He is trained by A. S. (Phonsie) O'Brien, brother of Vincent O'Brien, who brought Charnier and Ballymoss to Laurel for their appearances in the famous global race.

Ireland has always been a strong supporter of the Laurel race. Following Charnier in 1953, came Northern Gleam in 1954, Panaslipper (owned by Irish president Sean O'Kelly) in 1955, Vaquero II in 1956, Stephanot in 1957 and Ballymoss in 1958. The last two named horses fared better than the others - both ran third.

Epsom did not prove to be the only drama-packed Derby of 1960. On Sunday, July 3, at Hamburg the 91st German Derby took place. It was the most sensational in 90 years history. Frau Maria Mehl-Muelhens of the Eau de Cologne-making family looked set to win the Derby for the second consecutive year when her colt Wicht darted out of the pack early in the two furlong home stretch, holding a clear lead.

Then Albert Klimscha (senior), rider of eleven Derby winners in different countries, was thrown between the rails when his tiring mount Ares (of Erlenhof) fell in the last furlong. Klimscha broke his ankle.

Alarich of Roesler Stud came through from last position to win easily with clear 2 1/2 lengths. His jockey Paul Fuchs, completed on October 1, 1959 a little more than 15 months suspension.

Alarich, trained at Krefeld by former rider Max Schmidt, earned 70,000 DMarks for his past consistency in the face of ill luck. Alarich's sire Mangon won the Derby himself in 1952 and his dam, Alma Mater, was second the following year. Ticino, Alma Mater's sire, was successful in 1942 and there are several other Derby heroes close up in Alarich's pedigree. At least the Derby winner was bred for the job! Alex, Alarich's granddam was bred by the late Aga Khan in 1939 and is by Louqsor-Tiara by Flying Orb-Donnetta by Donovan-Rinovata by Wenlock.

Last year's champion and 2000 Guineas winner Wiener Walzer, so disappointing in the Union-Rennen, partly redeemed his reputation by finishing third, a short neck behind his stablemate Kaiseradler. Non-stayer Naretha, the flying colt who set a new German record of 1:35.5 minutes over the mile (turf) was fourth and now returns to shorter distances in big European events. 12 horses finished, among them the only filly Santa Cruz, German 1000 and Oaks winner. She had an off-day.

During this year's Derby-meeting there was a strong foreign challenge from Denmark, Norway, Sweden, East Germany, France, Switzerland and the Netherlands. The chief event for older horses, Grosser Hansa-Preis, (2200 M) went to the 4-year-old colt Waidmann (Neckar - Waldrun by Alchimist) of the Ravensberg Stud. The shining black colt outclassed the Paris-trained Exilio and the Danish-trained Alterani. The French-owned Turkano, winner of Grosser Preis von Westfalen at Dortmund, finished a poor sixth.

WHITNEY SEES HIS WINNER AT EPSOM

At Epsom to watch the Derby, Ambassador John Hay Whitney had the additional pleasure of seeing his home-bred colt Polo win the St. James's Stakes later in the afternoon. Run over 1 1/16 miles, the race is really designed for those colts that do not possess the stamina for the Derby.

Six runners went to the post, with the Whitney colt one of the outsiders at 100-8 despite the fact that he got in with the minimum weight of 141 lb., as a maiden. Lying in second place round Tattenham Corner, Douglas Smith took Polo to the front a quarter of a mile from home and he ran on gamely to score by three parts of a length in 1:43, which is 4 seconds below the average time.

By Ambiorix II, Polo is out of Old Game.

THE CHRONICLE

ILLINOIS PERMITS BUTAZOLIDIN

The Illinois Racing Board has lifted its ban on the use of the analgesic Butazolidin, provided that it is administered by a licensed veterinarian, either for racing or training purposes, who must notify the state veterinarian or the stewards of such action in writing on a prepared form. The state laboratory will continue to test for its presence in urine samples.

POOR LOSER

Once when veteran Ontario jockey Pat Remillard was riding at Fort Erie, his mount stumbled, plunged into the fence and promptly died with one mighty last gasp. Remillard himself hurtled into the crowd lining the rail. As he lay writhing and in a daze, a matronly grandmother-type rushed over to his inert form and waved her umbrella menacingly under his nose. "You, you - mean old man," she remonstrated, "Why is that poor horse dead and you are permitted to go on living?"

E.O.

The dramatic finish of the 91st running of The German Derby at Hamburg. ALARICH of Roesler Stud, the winner, takes the lead quickly and increases it to two and a half lengths at the finish post. His rider, jockey Paul Fuchs, did not make use of his whip. Head and head Kaiseradler (No. 13) second, and the flying Naretha, fourth (on the rails). Behind is the stumbling Wiener Walzer, third, (No. 14). On the ground, jockey Albert Klimscha, Sr. and the unhurt Erlenhof entry Ares. Behind is Vogelhorse, jumping over Ares.

GERMANS WIN BELGIAN AND AUSTRIAN DERBYS

Mydlinghoven bred and owned Engpass (Val Drake-Engadina by Sultan Mahomed won the Derby Belge in Brussels. She is a full sister to Escorte, Belgian Oaks and St. Leger winner (1958), now in foal to Sayajirao (Nearco-Rosy Legend by Dark Legend).

On June first German breeding had another outstanding success by winning the Austrian Derby in Vienna with the filly Winde (Mamertus-Wicke by Reinald). Winde is bred and owned by Buschhof Stud near Hannover. Unfortunately she is not in the German Stud Book, because her sire is a monorchid and is thus not allowed to be registered.

AMTELLER TEST

The American Totalisator Co., which supplies pari-mutuel machines to most American racetracks, has developed a currency identification device known as Amsteller II. During the recent 64-day meeting at Maywood Park, a night harness track near Chicago, the machine handled without mistakes more than 28,000 transactions totalling $141,700 in self-service pari-mutuel wagers. The bets were put through three Amstellers, $5 win, place, and show, which automatically identified the currency, the genuineness and amount. The machine automatically delivered the tickets on the horses chosen by the bettors.

SHENANDOAH DOWNS' CAPS

Shenandoah Downs, which introduced colored jockey caps keyed to the number of the horses at its spring meeting, now has painted the interior of paddock stalls corresponding hues, General Manager Bob Leavitt said today.

The new color scheme will be seen at Shenandoah's 71-night summer meeting.

Under the plan, the number one horse in each race, for example, will leave from a red stall in the paddock and be ridden by a jockey wearing a red cap. "The colored caps proved very popular with fans at the spring meeting, so we are taking this step to make horse identification even easier," Leavitt said.

In addition to red for one, paddock and cap colors are two, white; three, blue; four, yellow; five, green; six, orange; seven, purple; eight, black; nine, red and white; and ten, blue and white. Shenandoah Downs is the first track south of New England to use the color system to aid fans in following their horses during a race.

TRAINING THE RACEHORSE

Mrs. Main Waring-Taylor of Northlands has written a most interesting book on training the racehorse. Let me quote a few sentences from the chapter dealing with 'Training of the heart and nervous system':

"The general training of the Thoroughbred falls into three co-related phases. They should be taken in the following order:

- (1) Training of the heart;
- (2) Training of the nervous system;
- (3) Training of the muscles & respiratory organs.

In spite of all that has been written on training it is mainly the last of these three phases to which trainers devote themselves.

The heart is only considered if, or when, it fails to stand up to training methods. The nervous system is completely ignored.

Without minimising the importance of the respiratory and muscular system, it is evident that the condition of the heart is of primary importance. Its preparation and fortification is a delicate & difficult undertaking. In fact the training of the former is of almost elementary facility in comparison." J.F.-B.

DOROTHY PAGET STABLE

The racing and breeding stock of the late Miss Dorothy Paget, a grand-daughter of William Collins Whitney and a cousin of Ambassador to England John Hay Whitney, one of the largest collections of bloodstock in England, have been purchased by a group headed by Michael Sobell, a leading British manufacturer of television and radio equipment. The new owners plan to continue the racing and breeding operation.

EMBRYO JOCKEYS' RACE

On June 21 at Belmont Park, the first race was written as I'll bet you have never seen another race written. It was an allowance race, the purse was $3,500, and it was for animals which had not won since March 19. Three-year-olds carried 115 pounds and older horses carried 124.

There is nothing unusual about it so far. But we haven't come to the allowances part of it yet. The horses were to be ridden by jockeys which had never won 5 races. Jockeys which had never ridden a winner were allowed five pounds.

The idea, of course, is to provide action for embryo jockeys. If this idea proves successful, the New York Racing Association will develop it further.

I wonder if NYRA could make maybe another one or two allowance conditions, further to broaden the search for new jockey material. Say ten pounds for a boy who has never seen a horse and fifteen for a boy who can offer documentary evidence that he is scared to death of all large animals, especially horses. R. J. Clark

TEXAS BREEDERS ASSOCIATION

At a recent meeting at Big Spring, the officers of the Texas Thoroughbred Breeders Association were re-elected and renewed pledges to continue their campaign for the return to Texas of legalized pari-mutuel betting. The organization's Executive Secretary, Ches Benson, announced that Dr. J. K. Northway, representing the King Ranch, and A. B. Wharton, grandson of W. T. Waggoner, had both offered their help in this cause. Those re-elected included Dr. Thomas A. Johnson, Del Rio, president; W. C. Martin, Stratford, vice-president; Sam Moore, treasurer, J. T. Dillar, Big Spring, was elected new chairman of the board of directors. New directors include L. O. Allison, La Mesa; Raymond Rivers, Big Spring; Leo Speer, Lubbock; and Jim Carter, Odessa, and Allen Bogan as director of public relations.

FROM ABROAD

REPEATS IN BIG NEWMARKET STAKES

For the second year Stanhope Joel's six-year-old horse Primera won the 1 1/2 miles Princess of Wales's Stakes at Newmarket on July 1st. The race was worth 2,775 pounds.

Trainer Noel Murless had intended to run the great filly Petite Etoile as a preliminary race for the King George VI Stakes at Ascot but she was found to be coughing. Primera proved a worthy substitute and with Piggott in the saddle drew clear in the final hundred yards to win with the utmost ease. Primera was favorite at 9-4 against his five rivals.

By *My Babu out of Pirette, Primera is now only about 3000 pounds behind *Our Babu as the leading stakes winner sired by the Spendthrift located *My Babu. This is his ninth victory and after this season, in which he will try again to win the big Ebor Handicap, he will retire to stud. P.T.C.

News from the STUDS

NEW JERSEY

FAIRFIELD RETIRED

Fairfield, the dark bay son of *Daumier out of the Fairway mare *Celaeno, purchased by Colonial Farms at the Garden State Yearling Sales in 1956, has been retired from racing and will stand his first full season at stud in 1961. A consistent campaigner, he ran second to Li'l Fella at Monmouth Park last summer in the Longfellow Handicap, and during his racing career set a track record at Lincoln Downs for seven furlongs, and equalled another at Monmouth Park. Fairfield's dam, *Celaeno, is out of a half-sister to the great *Khaled, the California sire.

MALABAR FARM

Salvatore DiSidero's Malabar Farm is the newest Thoroughbred establishment in New Jersey. Located on Route 33, midway between Hightstown and Freehold, the 160-acre farm boasts a twenty-stall barn and a half-mile track has been laid out. Its surface will be spread with twenty-two thousand tons of beach sand early this summer and the rails are expected to be up soon after.

The Glen Ridge, N.J. manufacturer has owned a modest stable of runners in recent seasons, but the purchase of the farm spearheads his first breeding venture.

According to supervisor George Malgeri, brother-in-law of the owner, a large block building will soon be converted into a ten-stall broodmare barn.

Reece Donaway, who was the farm manager at Dhu Varren Farm in Far Hills for three years, assumed his new post as farm manager at Malabar on May 15.

KENTUCKY

FILLIES AT KEENELAND

Thirty of the 132 fillies cataloged for the Keeneland Summer Sale of Yearlings, to be conducted July 25-27 by the Breeders' Sales Company, are half-sisters to stakes winners.

Such outstanding Thoroughbreds as Bagdad, Armageddon, Noureddin, *Happy Laughter, Be Fleet, Alerted, Better Bee, War Eagle, Charlie's Song, Boston Doge, and Decorated have half-sisters in the forthcoming auction.

Six of the sales yearlings are next-to-kin to two or more winners of added money affairs.

Charlton Clay has consigned a Helioscope filly out of Sari Omar, a half-sister to four stakes winners - Charlie's

Song, Navy Chief, Kit's Pet, and Fond Embrace.

In the consignment of Leslie B. Combs II is a daughter of Hasty Road-*Bray Melody - next-of-kin to *Happy Laughter and State Trumpeter.

Thomas A. Rankin will sell an *Arctic Prince-Beedee filly - a half-sister to Blue Dare and Everett, Jr. John W. McIlvain and George M. Holtsinger will offer a daughter of Blue Prince-Davelle, a half-sister to Al Davelle and Benedicto.

John R. Robinson's Intent-Jinkytown daughter is closely related to Dear Brutus and Eternal Town; while Preston Madden's Tehran-*Michma filly is a half-sister to *Five Spots and *Balaklava II.

The half-sister to Bagdad - by Flying Fury-*Bazura - is in the Patrick Calhoun, Jr., consignment. Armageddon's half-sister - by Some Chance out of Fighting Lady - will be sold by J. C. Metz.

Forest Retreat Farm will sell the Hasty Road-Castanea miss - the next-of-kin to Noureddin. Reno B. Renfrew sells the *Royal Gem II-Bala Ormont half-sister to Be Fleet and the Jet Action-Hastily Yours half-sister to Alerted.

Better Bee's half-sister - by Jet Jewel-S. Bee - is in the E. K. Thomas consignment as is Decorated's next-of-kin by Mr. Music out of Jessica. Karsland Farm will sell the half-sister to War Eagle - a daughter of *Nirgal-War Party. Mrs. Joe Goodwin and Ray Sousley will offer the Ky. Colonel-Boston Lady next-of-kin to Boston Doge.

F. A. CLARK'S KILLYMOON

The second race at Aqueduct on Wednesday, July 13, was a six furlongs maiden race for 3-year-olds and upwards. It drew twelve starters, some of which brought high prices as sales yearlings. The winner was F. A. Clark's Killymoon, a 3-year-old bay gelding, by *Turn-to out of Blue Moon, by Eight Thirty. He was purchased out of the Elmendorf Farm (M. H. Gluck) consignment of 1958 at Keeneland, for $43,000. It was the first start of his racing career. In the place position was Mrs. S. C. Clark, Jr.'s 4-year-old *Sunny Celt. His owner is the wife of F. A. Clark's nephew. The show horse was Frances A. Genter's To The Colors, a 3-year-old by *Royal Charger out of *Miss Grillo, by Rolando, consigned by Shawnee Farm (Mrs. Parker B. Poe); he brought $18,000.

Hunt meeting trainers had the win and place horses. Francis Bellehouse is the handler of Killymoon and S. Watters, Jr., saddled *Sunny Celt.

Birthday Presentation To The Duke Of Beaufort

Daphne Moore

The scene of Barraud's well-known painting of 1840, "Lawn Meet at Badminton" was once again the setting for a Meet of the Duke of Beaufort's Hounds (the first to be held there since the War) on March 26th last. Many a famous lawn meet has taken place here in the intervening 120 years, but never has there been a more important occasion than this, when foxhunters from far and wide assembled to witness a presentation to the Duke to mark the occasion of his 60th birthday and 40 years of hunting hounds. There were over 170 horsemen, chiefly members of the Hunt in the traditional Blue-and-Buff uniform, and a crowd on foot nearly 500 strong. On the roof of the Duke's personal standard - the Beaufort flag - fluttered in a light N.E. wind, and the splendid old house towered majestically above the wide sweep of gravelled drive and the Deer Park beyond, a silent witness to a scene as historic as any which had been enacted beneath its walls in the long centuries since the 1st Duke's day, 300 years ago.

The Hunt Chairman, Colonel Cox-Cox, and the oldest hunting member, Major General Sir Stewart Menzies, occupied a wagon with the Duke himself in the centre. In his opening speech the Chairman referred to the Duke's approaching birthday on April 4th and said that all "Beaufortshire" as well as other Hunt countries, would unite in sending their good wishes to "Master" on that day; hoping that for many years to come he would continue his valuable support to hunting; also that the Duke and Duchess may reside for many years in their lovely home, carrying on the tradition of the noble House of Somerset. The 650 pounds which had been subscribed by the Hunt for the presentation was providing the gift of a Minton Breakfast service, a copy of one which had been in use at Badminton for about 100 years. The residue of the total sum was to be used towards the purchase of the best hunter that money could buy.

Seventh Annual English Foxhound Show at Eglinton Kennels near Toronto, Canada - The class for two couple of dog hounds was won by the Toronto and North York Hunt. (L. to r.): F. Pickford (Huntsman), and the judges Dean Bedford, Jt. M.F.H. Elkridge Harford Hunt Club and Edward Gundry, Ex-M.F.H. Cattistock Hunt.

(Toronto Star Syndicate)

When Major-General Sir Stewart Menzies rose to speak he recalled that he started to hunt with the late Duke as long ago as 1912, and his speech was full of interesting reminiscences of former days. A total of 84 years between father and son as Master and huntsman can seldom have been equalled; and he remarked that, could the Duke's father have been present to-day, it would surely have been the happiest day of his life to see his illustrious son, his successor the 10th Duke. "When the annals of the Hunt come to be written" (he said) "the present Duke's name will be at the top of 150 years of great huntsmen." The criterion of a great huntsman, Sir Stewart went on, is to show sport, even when conditions are unfavourable and with little scent; and he went on to recall especially an occasion when, due solely to the Duke's patience and persistence, an unpromising day resulted in a fine hound-hunt with a successful conclusion. In years to come those hunting to-day would proudly recall that they had had the privilege of hunting with the greatest huntsman of all time. His hard work, too, on non-hunting days to ensure good sport on the morrows; his care and thought in breeding the pack, and his many successes at Peterborough made up a record never equalled.

The presentation then took place - "with affection, admiration and gratitude for wonderful sport".

The Duke, replying, made a most entertaining and comprehensive speech, in which he referred to the 40 years hunting his own hounds as "a labour of love". He remarked that he felt just as great a thrill to-day when hounds leave kennels as he did forty years ago. To-day was the 2,885th day on which he had hunted hounds and to him there was never a bad day's hunting; some were just not so good as others. He spoke of the old days of the 1920's; his amateur whippers-in of the early part of that decade; his Hunt Staff, his former Hunt Secretaries and Chairmen, and paid tribute to his successive Joint-Masters. To-day sons and grandsons of the men who hunted with him in those early days are now, he said, members of the Hunt; the farmers still welcome us as did their fathers and grandfathers of old. Good hounds and good foxes are necessary to sport, and he thought that his hounds now are as good as he ever had; whilst the foxes this season have run better, straighter and faster than for many years past. In conclusion, he asked everyone to drink success to fox-hunting. Hounds then moved off across the Park accompanied by the Duke, his whippers-in, and the large Field, for a most enjoyable day's hunting.

Poison Ivy

Vacation spoiler and temper-boiler, poison ivy and poison oak are found in 95% of all the counties in America, are much harder to recognize than most people think, have characteristics that make these pestiferous plants one of the trickiest problems of outdoor life. Yet medical reports now say that this type of plant poisoning can be averted for almost everyone by means of a simple tablet which, taken in advance of the outdoor season, provides season-long immunity to both poison ivy and poison oak.

Eight out of 10 people are more or less susceptible to poison ivy and poison oak. And one of the least known facts about poison ivy is also one of the strangest - instead of building up tolerance to ivy poisoning, we tend to become increasingly susceptible to it with each exposure!

Another peculiarity of these poisonous plants is their ability to poison you even though you never touch the plant. It's a resinous oil on the leaves that causes the rash, blisters and itching. Touch something on which the oil has rubbed off, and enough of the oil may be transferred to your skin to start the rash.

A dog that has run through poison ivy, a rake, a shoe, even the cuff of your trouser leg - any of these may be a "carrier" of the oil that causes all the trouble.

Can you avoid direct contact with these plants? Unfortunately, no, unless you are a good botanist. For, though the leaves always grow in groups of three, their shape varies widely. Moreover, poison ivy itself changes its shape. It may grow as a climbing vine, but it may also appear as a ground creeper or even as a bush. Indeed, poison ivy and poison oak take on so many different forms that not even the expert botanists agree on the number of existing species!

Folklore reveals some bizarre ideas on the subject. A group of Indians, itching to avoid poison ivy, tried to placate the plant by dubbing it "my friend". Another Indian tribe tried the brave approach - tribesman ATE poison ivy leaves.

A vastly more effective, if less colorful solution to the problem was announced in December 1958 in a report presented before a clinical meeting of the American Medical Association. This report stated that, according to clinical tests, a new product, Aqua Ivy Tablets, developed by doctors at New York University Bellevue Medical Center and the Albert Einstein College of Medicine, had provided more than 9 out of 10 clinical subjects with immunity to poison ivy. This was after the tablets had been taken orally for as short a period as six weeks. Tested on volunteer Boy Scouts and on Coast Guardsmen stationed along ivy-infested stretches of the Mississippi River, the tablets proved to be effective in establishing immunity that lasted for at least ten months. The tablets are reported to be without toxicity or other unpleasant side effects. They can be purchased at any drug store without medical prescription.

Although complete immunization is, of course, the best way to deal with poison ivy and poison oak, certain other precautions are recommended to those who have not yet built up an immunity. Here are four useful ideas:

1. If you touch poison ivy or poison oak before you are immunized, scrub yourself with hot water and an alkali (strong brown soap is best), repeating the process at least three times. Decontaminate pets in the same way, but be sure to use rubber gloves. Clothing that has come in contact with these poisonous plants should be dry cleaned before being worn again. But you'd better warn the unsuspecting dry-cleaner!

2. If you own your own home, do your best to make sure you're not harboring any poisonous vines, creepers or bushes on the premises. Don't try to weed them out with your bare hands! Use a plant killer of some sort which will kill the roots as well as the herbage.

3. Don't burn poison ivy or poison oak if you can help it. Many home-owners unwittingly rake up the leaves of these poisonous plants with other garden trash or gather some dead tendrils of poison ivy along with their fire wood. The poisonous element in the plant does not die when its leaves wither and drop off. The poisonous oil vaporizes when burned. Carried by heat radiation or smoke, it can attack dozens of people in the vicinity. Remember that, even if you and your family are immunized, others may not be.

4. If you should catch poison ivy or poison oak, watch out when the blisters break. This causes open sores that may be dangerous because of bacterial infection. Anyone with a really severe case of ivy or oak poisoning should see a doctor. Though poison ivy and poison oak take on many forms, of this you may be sure - they can never be confused with a bed of roses!

BLOOD TRANSFUSIONS

According to a report in a recent issue of the American Journal of Veterinary Research, it is finally possible to give blood transfusions to Thoroughbred horses. The report summarizes the first three years of the blood-typing studies among Thoroughbreds as instigated and supported by The Jockey Club. It is the work of Manuel

A. Gilman, V.M.D. Chief Veterinarian for The Jockey Club, Alfred Schwarz, M.D., and Harry Wallerstein, M.D. Also assisting were the Research Laboratories of the Jewish Memorial Hospital of New York; Horace Wilson, technical assistant; Marshall Cassidy, executive secretary and treasurer of The Jockey Club; and Dr. Alexander Kaye, medical adviser to the Jockey's Guild. Horses used in the test included horses in training, stallions, and broodmares as well as young stock. Although 56 blood types in the Thoroughbred are theoretically possible, only 24 actual blood types have been found. One of these, labelled Type X, can be successfully given to horses carrying any of the other types.

HORSE SHOWS

Millwood

The largest Millwood Horse Show ever was held at beautiful Raceland in Framingham on June 11th. Raceland, the estate of the late John R. Macomber, nationally known sportsman, provided spacious grounds for three continuous rings for hunters and horsemanship. A new and popular feature of this year's show was the showing of six pony hunt teams. Many breeds of ponies were shown including New Forest, Welsh, Connemara, Shetland and others. An open Pony Breeding Division for model ponies, mare and foal, yearlings and two year olds was another new addition.

The real heroes of the day were the members of the show committee, all of whom are amateurs. They had the enormous task of running 55 classes, in three rings and succeeded in keeping the show on schedule. They also had the job of designing courses for all three rings. The courses in the main ring for working and green horses were particularly attractive. Many of the jumps looked large, solid and imposing, but were so well constructed that performances throughout the day were at a high level.

Juniors had their own ring, as did the ponies. Their courses were also cleverly designed. The pony ring had most of the jumps found in the senior ring, but minaturized to fit the contestants.

Pebble Beach Three Day Event

Ottershaw

That game little blood horse from Ireland, The Grasshopper, did not disappoint his many friends, when Michael Page of Briarcliff Manor, New York brought him home as the winner of the 3rd Annual Pebble Beach 3-Day Event, held near Carmel in California, June 24-26th. The event this year had added significance, for there the Olympic Equestrian Committee planned to select the horses and riders to represent this country at Rome in September. Open Division entries were limited to those riders and/or horses, thought to be of "Olympic calibre", for that reason. For this purpose also, the cross-country course was considerably "beefed up" over former years, to provide a more realistic test, under the direction of the effervescent "Dick" Collins, who acted also as manager. The less experienced qualified for an Intermediate Division which drew 17 starters, as opposed to the Open with 20, including the 15 horses currently in training at the Rancho San Fernando Rey under their trainer and coach Colonel "Tommy" Thomson of Nashville, Tenn.

Open Division Dressage

Competitors stood close scrutiny in the dressage test with the judges, H. Friedlaender and Lt. Col. Jonathan Burton officiating at one end of the sandy, pine-enclosed arena and the Olympic Equestrian Committee "spectating" at the other. Ideal weather conditions prevailed, as they did on all other days. These horses were now to perform the 1960 Olympic 3-Day Dressage Test for the third time in as many days, which brought forth a certain impatience on the part of the more temperamental ones. Several had given superior performances when somewhat fresher, during the pre-event competitions deemed necessary by the Olympic Selection Committee. The tough Grasshopper, obviously the crowd's favorite, started his turn with customary assurance, but did not quite reach the excellence of which he is capable. Being under some restraint, he worked under tension. Nonetheless he scored a low of 45.75 penalty points to take the lead which he was not to relinquish. Very impressive was the performance of the attractive brown lightweight Sea Tiger, skillfully presented by David Lurie of St. Louis, Mo. Although overbalanced, especially at the walk (his poorest gait), the sensitive Sea Tiger scored 60.75 points for second place. A fraction of a point behind came the good-looking Virginia-bred Markham, under Michael Plumb of Long Island, New York. This pair understand each other very well, showing improvement since last year's Pan American Games - in fact he scored two "sixes" for his work on two-tracks. Miss Claudia Frisbie, one of the only two lady-riders in the Open Division, brought Papito in for a well-deserved fourth place with 93.75. Also in the "nineties" were Walter Staley, Jr. (Mexico, Mo.) with Shamrock, a grand type. This horse lacks only sufficient polish to do much better. The other was the grey, Miss Butch (David Lurie), whose movements were not as well marked as they might have been, since she was not going sound. The big Pan American veteran, Sebastian, under Chan Turnley, made 135.75 points. In his case the drive from the quarters was lacking, especially noticeable at the extended gaits. The bay mare, Silverton, also under Chan Turnley, did quite a bit better with 114 points, fairly regular but lacking in enthusiasm. Next Appeal followed with 116.25 ridden by Denis Glaccum of New Jersey. The latter's ride started with considerable promise, but deteriorated due to stiff hands and back. The same can be said of the leggy Fleet Captain (Ernest Simard II of California) who suffered from too much constraint, aside from appearing insufficiently supple. J. E. B. Wofford's experienced grey mare, Pat's Sister, seemed too fresh for the job and lacked cadence, receiving 125.25 points. Though lacking experience, Michael Page's second horse, Chou Chou gathered 128.25. The remainder of the 20 starters obtained average and below-average marks.

Intermediate Division

In the Intermediate Division an overwhelming victory was scored by the team from Santa Cruz, which placed first in the final totals of the four teams competing. Not content with this convincing performance, the Santa Cruz team members took the first three individual places as well! The members were Brooks and Bryan Busby, Miss Laird Hardy and Robert Swennen.

on Nemo, formerly considered by many as unmanageable, after an average dressage test, had virtually the only faultless performance in the Endurance Test and the same in the Stadium Jumping Test to capture first place (83 penalty points) over his teammate Miss Laird Hardy on the flea-bitten grey Desert Conquest with 106, (2nd place) and over his brother, Ryan Busby on his own roan, Queenie, with 139.4. A well-known competitor at Eastern Horse Trials, the Virginian Miss Sara Willis, took fourth place with 146.4, in spite of a crashing fall at the "splash" jump of the Cross-Country course, where her horse, Maverick, attempted to clear the entire splash in one leap. In the Stadium Jumping Test on the third day, Miss Claudia Frisbie on Pyewacket put up a really first-class round with commendable skill. The Intermediate Division's Endurance Test was more or less unchanged from last year's with the addition of the splash, covering a total of 10 1/4 miles, with 1 1/4 for the Steeplechase Phase and 2 3/4 for the Cross-Country. In the former, the Liverpool obstacle caused a large number of refusals as well as a fall which partially demolished it.

Open Endurance Course

In the Open, it was a different story. A total distance of 14 1/2 miles, the first 2 miles (roads & tracks) led to the 1 1/2 mile Steeplechase course laid out in the only open country of the entire course, bordering the Pacific Ocean and sporting 9 broad galloping fences including the Liverpool and an open water. Then followed the second road and tracks (6.5 miles), and here the rider again entered the Del Monte Forest, a picturesque stand of Monterey pine on hilly terrain, through which was also laid out the celebrated 3.6 mile Cross-Country course. This was specifically designed as a final test for those to be chosen to go to Rome. As such it required a near-Olympic-type standard, but scaled down so as not to prematurely "wear out" or unnecessarily expose to injury horses due to leave for the Games in 8 weeks. In addition, the Selection Committee, for these purposes, materially reduced bonus points offered for faster time. Thus the "increased" '60 course, built around last year's, served its purpose very well. Only absent was the "choice-of-approach" (i.e. presenting rider-problems at obstacles) except at #10, 16, and 18. For the remainder the rough ground required a "bulldozed" track which gave the feeling of a jumping chute. The proximity of the trees on either side did in fact injure two riders - one being thrown, his horse taking off on his own.

Leaving the start of the Cross-Country, the Stonewall was quickly succeeded by a Cordwood pile, high and wide. Then the "Coffin" requiring the horse to jump rails and stand back from the succeeding ditch; and imposing Trakehner followed by Piled Logs, the whole of maximum dimensions; a very attractive, rustic Triple with pines and on to the "Lane-crossing", 2 four foot board Gates with ditches, 27 ft. apart, the whole looking rank and bare; then the traditional Pen involving a right-angle turn, causing several runouts. The Ditch built), Fallen Trees, Road Crossing (with considerable drop) Tree Rounds and Liverpool saw the competitor to the finish and into the final "Run-in" - and home. Of the latter only the Fallen Trees require mention. Four feet high, they presented a solid and closed front. The construction, however, did not allow the horse to see that there was a considerable spread, an unfair feature, quite apart from the drop of ground.

and the Oxer, although large, caused no trouble. But here followed the two most troublesome obstacles: first the inevitable Splash, looking a little out of place in the middle of the woods. The take-off consisted of stacked poles barely 3 ft. higher than water level, which was hardly a foot deep. The other was a second Trakehner in the forest with great variety of approach, but certainly not requiring a large jumping effort. The next four were closely grouped in the following order: A very steep 40' high slide dropped the horse right in front of a white stile; then came a severe (9') Drop over a small fence into a sandpit, next the open Water made simple by placing a log over the centre (the bottom was treacherous) and lastly an Up-bank off a lane, over a post and rail and virtually into a 6 ft. sloping bank, the whole a difficult feat indeed. The Zig-zag (beautifully

Performances

The bay mare Silverton (Chan Turnley) was first to go. She ran out at the pen and had to be driven hard to reach the second Trakehner, where her heart failed her, to be eliminated. Chou Chou (Michael Page) stopped at the Splash and fell at the Up-bank. Top Sword (Michael Plumb) stopped at the Splash, twice, the same at the dry Ditch and was eliminated at the second Trakehner. Tres Puissant (J.E.B. Wofford) gathered four refusals over the course. This good horse may have overextended himself by covering almost 20 ft. at the big Oxer - a terrific effort. Sea Tiger going with great precision scored only one refusal at the Up-bank and still earned 54 bonus points for time. Ernest Simard on his Fleet Captain had the misfortune to be knocked off by a tree early on course. The grey Shamrock (W. Staley) gathered 81 bonus points in spite of incurring 4 refusals. This is a cautious animal who has trouble making up his mind. Next Appeal (Denis Glaccum) also made bonus points in spite of several refusals. Miss C. Frisbie on Papito did not fare too well, to refuse out of the Lane-crossing. The Up-bank also caused San Pedro's fall (B. Harty), who was under orders to go slow the only one to incur time penalties. Sebastian (Chan Turnley) had trouble at the Pen, but even so earned 86 bonus points. The Grasshopper came next for 90 bonus points (maximum) and a clear

Olympic Tests At Pebble Beach

Herbert Wiesenthal

Before the start of the third annual Pebble Beach 3-day event, June 24-26, special tests for the candidates for our Olympic 3-day team were held. They started Saturday June 18th and ended on Tuesday June 21st. These tests were quite a strain on horses and riders and the results were basically not different from the results which the 3-day event revealed later on. Whether it was necessary to put animals and humans under this additional pressure is questionable. The reasons of the USEOC for holding these additional tests were not made public.

The first day, Saturday June 18, was used for the Olympic 3-day event dressage test. Eight candidates with 19 horses rode before judges Hermann Friedlaender and Lt. Col. Jonathan Burton. Four riders presented 3 horses each; three riders appeared with 2 horses and one contestant had only one horse available. Six of the candidates had trained under Col. Thomson at the USET 3-day Event Training Center on the Rancho San Fernando Rey of Mr. John Galvin.

At this first dressage test The Grasshopper under Michael Page, the winning combination at the Pan American Games last year, gave a remarkable performance which in lightness, elegance and brilliance surpassed the test which they rode in Chicago last fall. David Lurie on Sea Tiger came very close to equaling the first pair's performance. In third place Michael Page appeared again on his second horse Chou Chou. David Lurie on Miss Butch placed fourth and Michael Plumb on Markham, the silver medal winners of Chicago, fifth.

The jumping test of the second day, Sunday June 19th, was held over an interesting and rather difficult course, with most of the fences 3.9 to 4 feet and two obstacles at 4.3. The result changed the standing - but not too much. David Lurie on Miss Butch had the best round with only 10 faults, followed by Michael Plumb and Markham with 11 3/4 faults. Michael Page on The Grasshopper and Ernie Simard on Fleet Captain were tied for third with 20 faults each. This, however, did not change materially the total standing and The Grasshopper continued to lead, since the dressage scores of the other horses were considerably lower than his.

On the third day, Monday June 20th, The Grasshopper got in dressage the remarkable score of minus 17, which means approximately 92% perfect. This was the same test which the riders and horses had to perform on the first day. In second place came Michael Plumb and Markham with minus 33.5 points, in third place David Lurie and Sea Tiger with minus 45 points. After the third day, the overall standing was: 1. The Grasshopper (Michael Page); 2. Markham (Michael Plumb); 3. Sea Tiger (David Lurie) and 4th Miss Butch (David Lurie).

The fourth day was again a stadium jumping test with the fences raised to 3.9 to 4.3 and two obstacles (one spread and one straight) at 4.6. Again Miss Butch (David Lurie) excelled with only 10 penalty points. In second place, with 20 penalty points each, were tied The Grasshopper (Michael Page), Sebastian (Chan Turnley) and Silverton (Chan Turnley). Sea Tiger (David Lurie) had 30 1/4 and Markham (Michael Plumb) 30 1/2 penalty points.

The standing after these four special tests was as follows: 1. The Grasshopper (Michael Page), -93 pts.; 2. Markham (Michael Plumb), -145 3/5; 3. Miss Butch (David Lurie), -153 1/2; 4. Sea Tiger (David Lurie), -156; 5. Sebastian (Chan Turnley), -195; 6. Silverton (Chan Turnley), -212 1/4; 7. Shamrock (Wally Staley), -223 1/2; 8. Top Sword (Michael Plumb), -225; 9. Fleet Captain (Ernie Simard), -230; 10. Chou Chou (Michael Page), -236 1/2; 11. Capel (David Lurie), -289 1/2; 12. Vox (Chan Turnley), -294; 13. Next Appeal (Denis Glaccum), -303 1/4; 14.

Ivy League (Wally Staley), -317 1/4; 15. Tom Terpin (Ernie Simard), -360.

Jeb Wofford withdrew his three horses from these special tests after the first dressage phase due to difference of opinion with the Olympic Equestrian Committee about the jumping courses. Mr. Wofford participated, however, in the 3-day event which followed.

For the evaluation of the Olympic candidates, the scores of the 3-day event about which we report separately, were added to the above mentioned scores, with the special feature that penalty points were charged to them for too fast a time under the maximum bonus point time in the steeplechase and the cross country phases. The reasons for this were hard to understand and caused quite a bit of discussion in Pebble Beach among competitors and spectators.

round. Sunny Lanai (Rosalind Johnson) also put up a first-class performance, trouble-free and very fast. He was withdrawn the next day, however, having unfortunately hurt his stifle. The third and only other to go clean was Markham (M. Plumb), jumping with great assurance. Pat's Sister (J.E.B. Wofford) came to grief at the big Oxer (#6), hooking the obstacle and sending her rider to the hospital. All together 9 horses finished out of 15 actual starters in this division; moreover the first four places were not to change.

Third Day

A considerable crowd gathered to watch the Stadium Jumping test adjoining the Pebble Beach Stables. The flags, and an Army Band effectively marked the occasion. No horses were excused for unsoundness earlier that Sunday morning at the Veterinary Inspection. Nevertheless Sebastian, Miss Butch and Next Appeal were lame, while Sea Tiger, Markham and Fleet Captain showed signs of favouring. The course itself had nothing in common with a "typical" jumping course for a three day event, for it was in a tight area, un-natural with too much paint, and included a triple as well as a quadruple combination. Thus it exerted an influence on the entire test in excess of that laid down by the FEI. However, it may well have been so designed by the organizers for special reasons.

Starting in order of their final placing, The Grasshopper overshot the pen for a runout. He was probably the fastest going through the quadruple: post & rail, ditch & bank, off the bank and the picket fence (which persistently refused to come down when struck hard). Markham, again going very steadily, rapped one, but scored the only clear round! Sea Tiger came in wrong at the post & rail of the quadruple and flattened over the gate, knocking it down. Shamrock was dwelling again, but very sure, only putting a foot in the open water. Sebastian appeared tired, knocking down the red gate and cantering through the open water. Chou Chou with 40 jumping penalties made 5th place in the final placing and Next Appeal, whose leg evidently bothered him to the extent of several refusals and knockdowns, gathered 96 points, dropping in the final placing to 7th. Though previously eliminated several horses were allowed to compete, none of whom, however, distinguished themselves.

On the basis of this Three-Day Event the Olympic Equestrian Committee picked the following to represent this country at Rome: Walter Staley Jr., Michael Page, Michael Plumb and David Lurie. The horses, plus alternates, will be selected later, but it would appear inevitable to pick

Friday, July 22, 1960

The Grasshopper, Sea Tiger, Shamrock and Markham as the first string with San Pedro and Fleet Captain as possible alternates. The principal job now will be to keep the first-line horses sound, for there are few strong replacements available for the big test in Rome.

HORSE SHOWS

Lancaster

A star-studded entry list of more than 370 horses and ponies hailing from Eastern, Southern and Canadian areas made the Lancaster Spring Horse Show, now sponsored by the Junior League, the largest in its long history.

Packed into a tight three-day schedule, the show required the running of events on the outside course simultaneously with those in the ring, and made the show continue into the wee and not so wee hours of the night, except on the closing night when it was on schedule.

The Grand Hunter championship award, given to the hunter in any division which has acquired the greatest number of points, went to the finely bred dappled gray gelding, Brad, owned by Mrs. Ivan Von Sutka, Philadelphia. The handsome horse, ridden beautifully by Mrs. Joseph Ferguson, captured the Conformation hunter championship with 22 1/2 big conclusive points, far and away ahead of any other hunter in the show. This was the first championship that young Brad - six years old, (young as Conformation Hunters go,) - had won under Mrs. Von Sutka's colors. She has owned him only a few months.

Martha Ferguson also rode the champion Green Jumper, Bonne Gras, owned by All Around Farms, Gwynedd Valley, Pa. During the decisive stake class, she had a busy time of it, for after making a clean round tying for a big jump-off with five other horses, the working hunter stake was being called on the outside course. (Incidentally, at the time the usual driving rainstorm which blesses Lancaster on the last show day, was going on.) Martha jumped off Bonne Gras, ran through the mud (shank's mare) to the outside course, jumped on the Paxson's Flint Hill to make a perfect round clinching the working hunter stake, then ran back to the ring to jump-off Bonne Gras to win the Green Jumper stake. Bonne Gras tied with 10 points with Pedro, owned and ridden by Harry De Leyer, St. James, L. I., and the title was decided by a toss.

The working hunter championship was a tight squeeze, with several horses crowding for the title, eventually earned with 11 points by Little Sombrero, now owned by Miss Wendy and Master Roddy Wanamaker, of Philadelphia, and ridden by Miss Wanamaker. The nine-year-old bay gelding was raised from weanling age by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Winchell, West Grove, Pa., and named for famous Sombrero which Peggy Mills Winchell showed so successfully for Mrs. Don Ferrero of

New York some years ago. Later Little Sombrero was sold to Jack Goodwin, who in turn sold him to Miss Laurie Ratliff, of Pass Christian, Miss. He won the working hunter title at Devon in 1959, and this year was sold right after the Devon show to the Wanamakers. Wendy did a lovely job with him, in her first show as his owner.

The Paxsons had the champion in the Green Conformation Division, when Hands Down captured the title with 19 1/2 points. The fine young gray was ridden by Allen King Jr., and Martha Ferguson, who incidentally rode seven horses during the show.

Mrs. John J. Hill, III, of Berwyn, Pa., was owner and rider of the Green Working Hunter champion, Prescription, a beautiful four-year-old chestnut gelding. The horse scored three first place victories to garner 15 points for the title.

The open jumper division was marred by the fact that the world's highest priced jumper, Windsor Castle, owned by W. R. Ballard, Toronto, Ont., was injured during the PHA, the very first class of the show. He cut his leg on the outgate, requiring several stitches. While the injury was not serious, it was enough to put him out for the duration of the show, much to the disappointment of the spectators.

The jumper chart looked like a game of checkers played by a pair of madmen, with "Kings" (five points) scattered helter-skelter all over the board leaving the championship in doubt up to the stake class. The champion was the comparative dark horse, Red Shoes, owned by Dan Marks, Armonk, N.Y. He put in an undistinguished performance until late in the show, when he was taken in hand by famous rider Al Fiore, who promptly brought his total to 15 points for the top crown.

The Children's division, interspersed with regular classes during Saturday, had a large and earnest list of youngsters vying for honors.

The Grand Pony Hunter championship went to Hot Shot Kid, owned and ridden by Miss Terry Rudd, of Berwyn, Pa., after a hack-off with Wizard of Oz, owned and ridden by Miss Susan W. Burr, of Kimberton, Pa.

In the junior working hunter division, Rosetta, owned by Mrs. F. P. Sears, Hamilton, Mass., ridden by Miss Mimi Cummin, Villanova, Pa., earned the title of champion with 13 points. M.L.S.

Hillsboro

A distinctive date on the horseman's calendar is that of the annual Hillsboro Horse Show in the beautiful rolling country south-west of Nashville. At the school grounds and sponsored by the P.T.A., the affair starts at 10 a.m. with log pulling by competitive teams of mules.

The afternoon program was partially sponsored by The Nashville Tennessean newspaper as part of its series of hack and horsemanship competitions at Nashville area shows. One dollar entry fees collected for the U. S. Equestrian Team, Inc., totaled $100.00.

Champion pleasure hack and winner of the not-Thoroughbred preliminary was Joan Mooney's versatile registered Quarter Horse, Red Bud, also a combined training star. His owner-rider is a former Pony Clubber now teaching in the city schools.

New England Regional Rally

Host Club: Norfolk Hunt Pony Club, Dover, Mass., (June 24-27). Regional Supervisor: Nathaniel T. Clark. Over-All Judges: Mrs. Gordon Auchincloss, Mrs. Frederic H. Bontecou, Mr. Sanford Englund, Miss Gale Quinn.

The following clubs sent teams: Charlotte, Vermont: 1 D; Groton, Massachusetts: 1 D and 1 C; Musketaquid, Massachusetts: 1 C and 1 B (Individual); Norfolk, Massachusetts: 1 D, 1 C and 2 B (Individual); North Shore, Massachusetts: 1 B (Individual); Penobscot, Maine: 1 D and 1 C; Pioneer Valley, Massachusetts: 1 C; Upper Valley, Vermont: 1 D, 1 C and 1 B (Individual).

Dressage

Two rings were used, one of which had been loaned to Norfolk by the Musketaquid Pony Club. These were set up on the upper course with ample space between them and sufficient area roped off to keep spectators at a safe distance.

Cross Country

The D Course was just over one and one half miles with thirteen jumps. Pace was set at three hundred twenty-five yards per minute, giving a Time Allowance of eight minutes, fifty-one seconds. This proved to be a satisfactory pace for only three riders who completed the course incurring time penalties. The D's were judged 50% on horsemanship by the Over-All Judges, performance counting 50%.

The C Course was just over one and two thirds miles in length with nineteen jumps, including a modified splash jump - a rail in the middle of a stream, which due to the drought was only about four feet wide. Pace was set at three hundred seventy-five yards per minute, giving them a Time Allowance of seven minutes, fifty seconds. This pace presented a bit of a challenge, although most of the horses that completed the course had minor time penalties, if any. Jump #1 - a three-foot stone wall with rider - for some unaccountable reason caused the greatest difficulty. The post and rail pen jump took some toll, while the snake fence (three feet) seemed to be the next most troublesome. The splash jump, contrary to expectations, caused little difficulty except for one contestant who was eliminated thereat.

The B Course, just under two miles, contained twenty-three obstacles. The pace being set at four hundred twenty-five yards per minute gave a Time Allowance of seven minutes, thirty-five seconds. Only one contestant had time faults, and these were caused by too many refusals.

There were generally favorable comments by the contestants regarding the courses. Although they appeared fairly simple at first glance, they were so designed as to present problems, and to demonstrate the riders' control and impulsion as well as the ability to judge pace.

Stadium Jumping

The course for D's was reasonably simple, but required control. Jumps were set at two feet six inches or less. Five riders were eliminated because of disobediences, and most of these were attributable to lack of control and lack of impulsion on the part of the riders. On the whole, however, the performances were quite good.

C's and B's rode longer and more complicated courses with jumps not over three feet for C's and three and one half feet for B's. They were also required to ride at a faster pace. Very few and minor time faults were incurred by the C's, and few by the B's. On the whole, performances by both groups were gratifying.

Written Tests

Written tests were given immediately after luncheon on the first full day of the Rally. This proved to be highly satisfactory from all points of view: 1) contestants are happy to get the test out of the way early in the game, 2) it gives the correctors plenty of time to get their work done, and 3) it avoids pressure on the scorers at a time when the Cross Country scores are coming in, as would be the case if tests were given on the second day.

Schedule

The timetable worked out extremely well, and all events seemed to start and to end on time. In order that all horses of any team not come in hot at once, a rotational starting order was established alphabetically by Clubs. This was adhered to in Dressage and in Cross Country. Stadium Jumping however was done by Teams in numerical order. The system worked well, and was a big help to the contestants.

The swimming break on Saturday eased the pressure for teams, and the informal supper for team members only was a great success. The swimming and barbecue luncheon at Farm Pond was one of the high points of the Rally. Saturday was windy and cold, so that many contestants did not swim. However, Sunday being warm and perfect weather, the barbecue and swimming were timely.

Miscellaneous

The critique by Mesdames Bontecou and Auchincloss and Miss Quinn was excellently handled. They remarked particularly on the excellent spirit in which their comments and criticisms throughout the Rally were taken by the contestants.

In the B Competition, top honors - 268.45 points - went to Jennifer Smith of Upper Valley. In the C Competition, Penobscot won with 873.9 points over Norfolk with 782.1, while the Norfolk D Team topped its division with a total of 863 points, leading the Penobscot runners-up by 104 points.

This was the fifth Regional Rally for New England, and the contestants seemed more relaxed than at any of the previous four. This may be due in part to previous experience by many of the contestants - some of whom have participated as D's - but also (according to the contestants) it was due to the schedule which allowed ample time for relaxation and recreation. It is interesting to think back on previous rallies and to note the higher level of riding ability today which the C's exhibit.

Middleburg-Orange County Pony Club Rally

Jane McClary

Nobody winning the Triple Crown was ever more excited than Mia McIlvaine when she cleared the last triple bar in the time jump-off at the Middleburg-Orange County Pony Club Rally. With four seconds to spare Mia, riding Mrs. Redmond Toerge's brave, bold-going Baby Doll, won the stadium jumping. This combined with a perfect score Cross-Country, plus the necessary points in stable management, oral, veterinary test and dressage, made her the high C of the Rally and put her on the winning team for the Virginia Regional Rally.

It is doubtful if there will be any more excitement in Rome this summer than has been evidence here in Virginia concerning the Pony Club Rallies. As Marc, at the Hardware Store, put it after selling his eighth can of green paint to a Pony Clubber, "what are you preparing for, the Olympics!"

The green and white Middleburg-Orange County colors were displayed first at the Rally, June 14-15, at Mr. and Mrs. Henry Loomis' Trough Hill Farm near Middleburg. Thanks to Paulie Loomis, Eve Fout - the indefatigable District Commissioners - and the weather, not to mention the efforts of enthusiastic parents providing food, transportation, aid (wanted) advice (mostly unwanted) and consolation, the kick-off Rally was super success.

Although chaos and cloudbursts complicated the unloading and stabling Monday afternoon, things somehow shook down so that the Rally could get underway at dawn the following morning. Sleepless parents unloaded offspring in time to feed, water, muck out, put finishing touches on tack to have everything Bristol fashion in time for rigorous inspections by vets Rufus Humphrey and Bob Booth. With Herculean efforts Pixie Loomis shoveled all the bedding from her pony's stall only to have her irate mother order most of it back in again. Jack Dudley's pony drank 8 buckets of water causing him to be continually in transit lugging buckets as big as he is. One pony escaped and was found in the feed room and the white ponies stabled under the trees drove their owners to nervous prostration by rolling in the mud as soon as they were cleaned off.

Nevertheless all were spotless in time for dressage, a slow but essential phase that went on all morning. Sandwiches under the trees was followed by the rush to prepare for the Cross Country.

The course, close to three miles over hill and dale, feed trough and open ditch, was challenging without being too formidable. Several B's and C's chalked up faultless rounds.

The greatest excitement came Wednesday afternoon with the stadium jumping over an Irish bank, in and out and other tricky obstacles. At least 12 jumped off. With parents mentally leaping with each rider and the crowd cheering, Baby Doll did her bit for the C's to be followed up by Pixie Loomis on Pegasus 1 point behind.

For the B's Priscilla Skinker of The Plains, on Mariachi had the highest num-

Northwest Welsh Ponies

Just returned from Twin Falls, Idaho! This sale has proved definitely that the Welsh Pony market has begun to reach a saturation point in colts and stallions. We cannot better our breed or our market by selling every colt as a stallion prospect. We all know that every colt will not make a top stallion prospect! It's about time we breeders realized this and started doing something about it. What can we do, you say? Plenty! First of all we are going to have to make use of the knife, and do a lot of castrating. Yes, I said castrating. Next we need a lot of performance classes in our horse shows, and we need some all Welsh shows with performance classes. Racing has a very prominent future in the Welsh business. Here is a very good market for your surplus colts. As broke, trained, (for show ponies, pleasure mounts, or race ponies) geldings (our surplus colts) will have a real market value, not a $250 value as a mediocre stud prospect. This is a bitter pill to swallow, but if you will consider what happened to other breeds when every colt was treated as a stallion prospect, I think you will have to agree that to protect ourselves and our breed we are going to have to select our stallions very carefully and keep the knives sharp.

Regarding pony racing in harness, we at RAWILL, feel that here is an excellent opportunity to put the Welsh business on top. Racing is very successful in the East, and it can and soon will be so here in the West. What sort of prices do you think a well broke Welsh pony gelding that can trot a mile in winning time with purses of $1,000 or more would bring? Something to think about isn't it? Do you know what a well trained cutting or roping gelded Quarter Horse costs? Ask around and find out. What about the cost of a top running gelded Thoroughbred or a well trained gelded American Saddlebred show horse? Lets stick together and keep the Welsh on top. It is good business for all of us. Eastern Penna. Regional Rally

The Eastern Pennsylvania Regional Pony Club Annual Rally was held on June 22-24 at the Rose Tree Foxhunting Club near Media, Pa., with the Rose Tree Pony Club as hosts. The weather was hot and humid, and though rain threatened the first day, it held off until Friday morning during the stadium jumping of the C-1s and the Bs. Enthusiasm was high, however, and the boys and girls worked equally hard, whether at stable duty or negotiating the tricky stadium jumps.

Seven Pennsylvania clubs and the Somerset Hills club representing New Jersey, participated. Berks, Bridlewild, Cheshire, Huntingdon Valley, Pickering Radnor and Rose Tree sent 5 D teams, 6 C-1s, 7C-2s and 2 Bs, totaling 100 riders and helpers and 80 horses and ponies.

The Strath Haven Inn in Swarthmore adequately housed the children, while meals were served in two shifts at the top scorers were; D riders, Kevin McCarthy, Rose Tree 115, Gill Gordon, Rose Tree, 113, C-1, Lynn Jacobs, Rose Tree, 115, tied with Sandy Anderson, Bridlewild. This new pony club is located in Gladwyne, Pa., and was attending its first rally. C-2, Richard Harris, Huntingdon Valley, 114, Douglas Louden, Somerset Hills, 111; Bs, Jill Keiser, 117, Ray McCarty, Rose Tree, 111.

Cross Country

All teams had walked their courses at 3:30 the first afternoon. The cross country section began at 12:30 and it was a long afternoon for the many fence judges who remained at their posts till the last rider crossed the finish line at 5:30. The D's course with ten varied jumps was set-up on the dumbbell shaped race track in view of most spectators. The C-1's, C-2's and B's course took the riders up and down several steep hills and through woods. There was a good variety of jumps such as a stile, a table with flower pots and blue porch chairs for wings (the C-1s

C-1 teams - Martha Boyd and Christy Goodman, Berks; Marian Jones and Elise Donaldson, Cheshire; Lynn Jacobs and Carol Hayward, Rose Tree; Diana Vreeland and Kit Baker, Somerset Hills C-2 teams - Elsie Birchall and Barbara Shade, Berks; Shelley Reeve, Huntingdon Valley; Carol Preston, Pickering; Sharon Sutton, Rose Tree; Douglas Louden, Somerset Hills; B team - Susan Hazzard, Cheshire.

The parade of the teams was called off due to a hard shower and the awards were made on foot. It is interesting to note that the four plaques went to four different clubs.

Rose Tree Club. An air-conditioned bus transported the teams for the ten minute ride from the club to the inn. The horses and ponies were stabled mainly in temporary canvas topped stalls, while a few used the lower Rose Tree barn.

The written examination was given by Dr. William Santoro during the first evening. It covered stable management, a knowledge of foxhunting, and veterinary terms. Overall the results were quite good. Some of the weaknesses were lack of understanding of good feeding practice, only a smattering of veterinary knowledge, while on fox-hunting they were well informed.

Two dressage rings were set-up and the D and C-2 riders opened the rally. This event started at 8:30 a.m. and lasted till nearly 1 p.m. Generally speaking the performances were good. Bending, transition and a smooth use of the hands could be improved upon. With 150 as the maximum number of points possible, the jumped only the table), several water jumps, and a cord of wood. Though the weather was very warm all the horses were brought to the finish line in good condition. The three Pickering teams were outstanding in this event as all riders had perfect scores.

Stadium Jumping

The stadium jumping course was held in front of the grandstand. It was a tricky and interesting test for horse and rider, with the children riding with more knowledge and confidence than last year. Their hands were especially good and this showed up well as the horses were asked to make many short, sharp turns. The children who had perfect scores in both cross country and stadium jumping were: D teams - Alice McGucken and Margaret Brabzon, Huntingdon Valley; Debby Smith, Linda Collins, David McAdoo and Billy McAdoo, Pickering; Rothwell Taylor, Rose Tree, John Dillon, Somerset Hills

C-2 team totals - 1. Somerset Hills, 914; 2. Rose Tree, 911; 3. Pickering, 891; 4. Radnor, 891; 5. Berks, 887; 6. Huntingdon Valley, 853; 7. Bridlewild, 820.

B - Sally Davidson, Cheshire, 446; Judy Donaldson, Cheshire, 432.

FOX RIDGE CONNEMARAS

William B. Dolph of Fox Ridge Farm, Ivy, Virginia, reports the arrival of six new Connemara foals this spring with ten more still due. Fox Ridge Timothy and Fox Ridge Rickey, ridden by Jean Waldman and Betty Barkley, have won the pair class at every show in which they have been entered except one in which they placed second. Dr. William Lovell, of Charlotte, North Carolina, has recently purchased from Fox Ridge the six-year-old Connemara mare, Star's Girl, in foal to Texas Pride.

Polo In Hawaii

Eileen O'Brien

Enlargement of Kapiolani Park's polo field at the base of famed Diamond Head, development of more than a dozen new polo players, importation of many fine horses from the Continent and a schedule of well-attended matches were highlights of the past year in Hawaii.

With the organization of the Pupukea Polo Club, a new member of the U.S. Polo Association, zest was added to the weekly scrimmage games at the Waikiki park.

Under the sponsorship of the Waikiki Polo Club, matches were scheduled throughout the year with the following teams taking part: Hawaiian Packers, Kailua, Waikikians, Army-Navy and Grayline Hawaii.

Interest in inter-island competition continued high, with matches between Maui and Oahu clubs. Maui triumphed with a 14-4 score during the summer in a match with Peter Perkins, Edward Hedeman and Ronnie Tongg riding for the Pupukea Club and Manduke, Peter and Ben Baldwin representing the Valley Island of Maui.

In October the Maui team, with Tuna Sampaio, Manduke and Peter Baldwin opposing Tommy Campos, Peter Perkins and Edward Hedeman of Pupukea, saw the tide reversed with Honolulu winning 8-7 in overtime play.

The improved polo field, now measuring 500 by 100 feet, was initiated with Waikiki Polo Club matches in October featuring Billy Linfoot, 9-goal star from California as a guest player. In one match the Linfoot team, which included Sampaio, Fred Dailey and Bob Allen, scored 8-3 over a team captained by Pupukea's 8-goal star Peter Perkins, with Campos and Bim Wilson.

One of these matches was presented as a benefit for the Toys for Tots drive sponsored by the Marine Corps Reserve. The more than 4,000 persons attending the game filled six large barrels with new toys for Honolulu's underprivileged children.

Another highlight was the winning by Inter-Island of the Chucho Solorzano Aloha Polo Trophy, with more than 1,000 persons attending the final match. Riding with Inter-Island was guest Chuchito Solorzano of Mexico, son of Chucho, popular Mexican polo player and former bull fighter, who provided the trophy. In this 8-7 match, young Solorzano rode with Rennie Tongg and Bim Wilson, with Kailua represented by Campos, Hedeman and James Olmos.

Arrival of the Manila Polo Club for matches with Island teams resulted in a series of well-played matches last May. In Honolulu from the Philippines were Robert Runion, Oscar Jacinto and John DeLeon.

The Waikiki Polo Club played a series of matches in Manila during February, with Perkins, Tongg, Fred Dailey and Bob McGregor making the trip by air from Hawaii.

The coming season will feature various tournaments including the first State of Hawaii championship and the prospective visit of a team representing Japan, the Palace Riding Club of Tokyo.

Farmington Polo

Ed Lovern

Paced by Will Farish, who scored five goals, the Farmington Hunt Club polo team defeated Potomac, Maryland, 9-7, June 18. The FHC "A" trio is undefeated and in first place in the Virginia-Maryland Polo League.

Captain Doug Nicoll scored for Charlottesville in the first seconds of play and Farish, University of Virginia Polo Team captain, established a 3-1 lead in period one. Although Potomac came back strong with 4 goals in the final chukker, they were never able to match Farmington's effective defense and teamwork.

Halter Cunningham, a one-goal player who also captains the Dollbaby Farm polo team, tied the game at 1-1 on a penalty shot follow-up. But Farish took the next toss-in to score with an under-the-neck shot from the line-up. Before the chukker was over, he took another toss-in from his number one position all the way to the goal for his second point.

Farish, a hard-riding Texan, racked up 2 more points in the early minutes of chukker two. Then Joe Smoak, Potomac's number 3, blasted a beautiful shot from 50 yards for his initial goal and scored again as the half closed to bring the figures to 5-3.

Again in the second half, Farish took the offensive for Farmington to dribble in to the uprights and score with 4 quick drives. Herb Jones, riding in the defensive position, twice fought his way through scrambles in the mouth of the goal to give the Charlottesville horsemen an 8-3 margin.

Cunningham, one of the league's finest one-goal players, opened the final chukker with a wide-angle shot from mid-field, which split the goal posts. He was quickly matched by Jones with the FHC team's last point. Then Cunningham took a set-up from Bernie Sharpe, his number one, to bring the score 9-5. The Maryland ace couldn't be stopped. With an amazing 80 yard line drive down the middle of the field, he scored his fourth goal. Smoak closed the match with a nice back hand shot as time ran out with his club behind 9-7.

Santa Barbara Polo

John Alexander

Santa Barbara, Cal. - July - the regular summer polo season at the Santa Barbara Polo Club, originally slated to begin by mid-June, has been canceled, Pacific Coast Polo Assn. Governor L. C. Smith of San Mateo, Calif., announced.

Approximately 40 players have shipped their strings of horses east to Milwaukee, Chicago, and far east polo centers for the summer season and national tournaments. Smith indicated that the scheduled winter season is expected to be played at Santa Barbara, however.

"All of the players are tremendously disappointed in not being able to compete in Santa Barbara this summer, because the Santa Barbara Polo Club is the 'home and heart' of polo on the West Coast, Smith said.

The field has been closed for the summer season because of legal difficulties encountered in connection with the sale, several months ago, of the field, by Jackson, of Santa Barbara, to Leo Hulseman, Chicago, owner of the Solocup team. The sale of the Polo Club took place shortly after the Carpinteria School district announced plans to consider the site as a possible location for a new high school.

Since the field was sold Carpinteria school officials have reportedly settled on another site for the proposed high school.

Smith indicated that in view of the closing of the Santa Barbara fields for the summer, the National Inter-Circuit Tournament, 12-Goal, 8-Goal and other tournaments had been transferred to other sections of the country for play.

Smith said he had been told by eastern players they were "supporting Santa Barbara polo 100 per cent, and Paul Butler, John Oxley and others from Oklahoma, Texas, Chicago, and other eastern points were ready to ship to Santa Barbara to play."

All expressed disappointment that the summer season had been cancelled and pointed out they would be ready to play here during the winter season when legal difficulties are cleared.

Will Rogers Polo Club

Sue Sally Jones

With two Sundays of tournaments past, the Will Rogers Polo Club (Los Angeles, Calif.) has one more Sunday game before giving the field a short well needed rest. A warm up tournament was played before settling down to the Summer seven goal tournaments. This sharpened the enthusiasm and put the players on their toes. Both games were fast, hard hitting and well played. The teams were the Top Hats in red jerseys versus the Vikings in blue jerseys. The first game ended in a tie score. The Vikings won the second and decisive game by a score of 7 to the Top Hats' 2.

Gilbert Mather Memorial

Dear Sir:

This letter is to advise you that a committee composed of the trustees of the Chester County Hospital and the heirs of Gilbert Mather have decided on the memorial to him which was subscribed to by his many friends.

A room will be established in the Chester County Hospital to the right of the main entrance to be used as a waiting room for patients and for friends of patients.

This room will be furnished and decorated by "The Gilbert Mather Memorial Fund," and there will be a suitable plaque placed in it designating it as such.

Yours very truly,
T. P. Harney
Senate of Pennsylvania

Pebble Beach Publicity

Dear Sir:

I just read in The Chronicle of July 8th Mrs. James M. Tucker's letter on the publicity which the Pebble Beach 3-day-event received in the San Francisco papers.

It seems strange that I, as an "Easterner" should defend the San Francisco papers against Mrs. Tucker's "accusations". I attended the Pebble Beach Trials for a full week and found every morning at breakfast in my hotel in Monterey the San Francisco Chronicle or in the evening the Examiner or the News-Call Bulletin with an accurate report about the day's events and results - short but precise and placed on the sport page at a spot where it could be found quite easily. In addition, the publicity in the Monterey Peninsula Herald was superb and should also be mentioned.

Coming from the East, I was pleasantly surprised with how much and how regularly the San Francisco papers reported on these Olympic equestrian trials. Very seldom do we get so much coverage, and I am sure these are feathers in the hats of Dick Collins and Jim Glaser.

So, Mrs. Tucker, don't complain - your West Coast papers and the publicity department at Pebble Beach have done a splendid job.

Sincerely,
Herbert Wiesenthal
Briarcliff Manor, N.Y.

Astute Observations

Sir:

We could not help but write you and congratulate "Richmond" on his astute observations on the male equestrian situation in Richmond and vicinity. We, the teenage girls and women, would welcome more men around the horse shows, even if they came from the mid and late twenties age group. Of course, we realize that requisition of this type of male equestrian must begin with the jaded male debutants and fading fraternity brothers.

After the desirable male has been obtained, he must acquire some slight knowledge of horsemanship, purchase a quadruped, and most likely solicit a patron to support his new found sport.

In this vein, we understand from reliable sources that there are at least two promising new horsemen currently in training at various stables in the Richmond area. We feel sure that "Richmond's" letter will give them the needed encouragement and inspiration to continue on to great heights. Good luck boys!

Very truly yours,
Cash Corner,
Cismont,
and Manakin

Breeders at Hanover

The officers and directors of the Pennsylvania Horse Breeders' Association, and their wives, recently were the guests of Lawrence B. Sheppard at his 2200 acre Hanover Shoe Farms in the Pennsylvania Dutch country of Hanover, Pa.

Mr. Sheppard, who is chairman of the Pennsylvania Harness Racing Commission, maintains the world's largest standardbred (trotters and pacers) nursery. At present there are 1,005 horses within the 25 miles of fencing which enclose the farms.

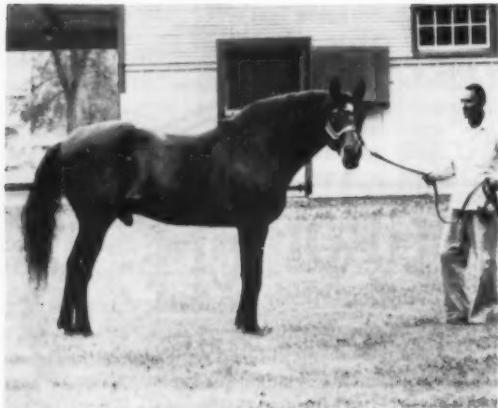

To attend the needs of the stallions, mares, sucklings, and yearlings requires the full attention of some fifty men. These are under the able supervision of James C. Harrison, Harry Moss, and Dr. A. W. Patterson, Jr. There are 700 stalls in 40 barns on the Farm. It takes 1,000 others. Mr. Sheppard also owns an interest in the great Adios, standing at Delvin Miller's farm in Meadow Lands, Pa. Adios sired winners of 549 races and $1,439,208 in 1958. Stud fees for Hanover stallions covering outside mares run from $500 to $10,000.

When harness racing becomes a reality in Pennsylvania it seems obvious that it will produce some of the finest racing of its kind in the United States.

Mr. Sheppard actively guides the operation of Hanover Shoe Farms in addition to attending to duties as president of the Hanover Shoe Manufacturing Company. Until recently he was president of the U.S. Trotting Association, and is still one of its directors. In 1937, as an amateur driver, he drove his horse, Dean Hanover to victory in a three-heat trotting race and broke a world's record.

The authorities of Pennsylvania were extremely fortunate to be able to enlist the services of Lawrence B. Sheppard as the man to direct the Racing Commission in that State.

tons of straw to bed-down the horses that are brought in from pasture or paddock. To feed this horse population requires over 50,000 bushels of oats a year and 1200 tons of hay. The pastures require 300 tons of lime each year and 140 tons of fertilizer. The fencing alone takes 20,000 gallons of whitewash annually.

Hanover Shoe Farms is a commercial enterprise, breeding and selling quality merchandise, and the commodity is tested on the harness tracks of the nation. Since 1926 when Mr. Sheppard's farm was founded, it has been a financial success. In 1958 Hanover stallions sired the winners of 2,917 races with purses to their owners totaling $5,102,003. Hanover Shoe Farms does not race its own horses. They breed to sell. In 1959 125 Hanover Farms yearlings brought $1,109,000 at the yearly auction sales at Harrisburg.

Hanover must produce stock which continues to win at the tracks. To this end it has a battery of world-reckoned stallions: Dean Hanover, Hoot Mon, Tar Heel, Torpid, Knight Dream, Nibble Hanover, Titan Hanover, Scotch Victor, and many his owner. It was his first $100,000 stakes triumph and he took home $100,000 which was guaranteed to the winner. R. L. Wheeler saddled him up for former bush jockey E. Burns, who gave the winner a brisk ride and pulled away at the sixteenth to finish under a hand ride. It was jockey Burns' first one hundred grand purse winner. The 107 pounds was the lightest winning weight in the 21 runnings of The Hollywood Gold Cup.

The Equipoise Mile

Eight handicap horses took a crack at the first prize in the 20th running of The Equipoise Mile, at Arlington Park, on Saturday, July 16. The handicap stakes, for 3-year-olds and upwards, offered a purse of $50,000 added. Brookfield Farm's Intentionally was the big horse, carrying 126 pounds top weight, and favored by the bettors.

Jockey Bill Hartack took command at the half mile mark, pulled away to a four length lead in the stretch, but in the long drive home began to slow up and barely held on to nose out Claiborne Farm's Dunce. Priscilla D. Willis' Little Tytus was next, three and one half lengths back, and C. H. Wacker III's Clandestine was fourth, five lengths further back. The winning time was 1.34 2/5, just two fifths of a second off Clem's track record set in 1958. Intentionally's time equalled the track record formerly held for many years by Equipoise.

The winner is a 4-year-old black colt, by Intent-My Recipe, by Discovery, bred by his owner Harry Isaac of Brookfield Farm, Maryland. E. I. Kelly trains Intentionally. The winning run was worth $32, 200 net, and put him over the half million mark ($519,487) for his career.

The Hollywood Gold Cup

Hollywood Park produced one of its big ones on Saturday, July 16, in 21st running of The Hollywood Gold Cup, one and one quarter miles, $100,000 added, for 3-year-olds and upward. Eight starters left the gate, including the lightweighted (107 pounds) Dotted Swiss, owned by C. V. Whitney. The highweight of the field was H. Keck and Claiborne Farm's Bagdad, 122 pounds. Dotted Swiss made the weight advantage stick by finishing four lengths in front of Bagdad. Circle TWP Stable's Prize Host and Elobee Farm's Eddie Schmidt deadheated for third and split third and fourth money. The winner was clocked at 1.59 2/5 for the 1 1/4 miles.

Dotted Swiss is a chestnut colt by Counterpoint-Swistar, by Pavot, bred by

DIDN'T LIKE U.S.A.

After winning three races last year culminating in the Edinburgh Gold Cup, owner Friend Sykes leased his four year old Illinois to race in the United States. But the horse took a marked dislike to American routine, became thoroughly bored and unco-operative.

So Illinois was sent back home to England to his old stable at Lambourn and at once showed just how much he appreciated the return. In his first start this year he was attempting to do what no horse has been able to achieve in the past two seasons, to beat Petite Etoile, to whom he was second. Next time out he went to his favorite track by the sea at Brighton and there Illinois carried 131 lb. to victory in the Pavilion Handicap over 1 1/2 miles, winning by four lengths.

This was Illinois' sixth win in nine starts at Brighton, and in the other three he has been placed. By Tenerani he is out of Lady Amy.

did, might not have been able to snatch up both jobs, and his course up the ladder would have been slower. But if he'd only managed to grab the mutual clerk job, he'd be better off than the average bettor, being able to punch out a ticket on that last-minute inspiration that comes to all who frequent the course.

Indirect Approach

The second way to get to be a steward is to become first a great jockey. If you are one of those who followed my instructions and became a successful rider (even though you didn't write in and thank me) this will be simple.

You ride for 20 or 25 years, lead the list in two or more seasons, have considerably more than average intelligence and behave like a gentleman at all times.

When you are ready to give up the saddle you will have a million or two in cash, blue-chip stocks and real estate, and will be looking around for a hobby.

The stewards' stand should appeal to you. Just announce that you are available and two Ohio tracks will put in bids.

At the beginning of this guide to stewarding, I observed that there are three ways to become a top official of the course.

I said this because I don't want it to get around that I'm one of those guys who thinks he knows everything.

Actually, I know only the two methods described and assume that there is one more way that I never heard of. Perhaps there are THREE other ways and I don't even know half of it.

I should like to make one simple request of any one who follows these instructions and becomes a steward - even at a minor track; don't be like those kids I taught how to be jockeys; drop me a line.

Correction

Some weeks ago, I reported the adventures of a Miss Johanna who won the first bet she ever made (mutuel $106; bookmaker's payoff, $42).

In describing Miss Johanna's physical charms, I referred to her "big, brown eyes."

Since then, she let me take a closer look at her eyes - and with my reading glasses on - and I find that they are gray-green, with a beautiful blue iridescence. The iridescence may come from HER reading glasses.

the favorite, carried his 145 pounds the distance in a highly creditable 3.18 2/5, just three and one-fifth seconds off Neji's course record. In the Midsummer Hurdle Handicap, he will be a horse with whom to reckon under his impost of 138.

Charley Harr Escapes Injury
On Monday, July 11, the only physical mishap to date occurred when Mrs. Howard R. Lomas' Gallant Tonto fell at the fourth jump and Charles Harr narrowly escaped serious injury. Harr complained of pain in his right shoulder and right knee and although X-rays disclosed no fractures, he suffered a severe knee sprain. Harr also sported a scrape along the side of his face which may have been caused by a flying hoof as he rolled over the turf after Gallant Tonto fell. The mile and three-quarter claiming event was won by Ruthart Stable's *St. Phideas, ridden by Jimmy Murphy and trained by Sidney Watters, Jr., by five and a half lengths over Mrs. Grabosky's six-year-old mare *Vilrena, ridden by Jimmy Wyatt. Mrs. June H. McKnight's *Chufquen, a distant trailer, also fell, at the eighth hurdle, but Evan Jackson was unhurt. Mrs. Henry Obre and trainer Kenny Field claimed Ballymum Farm's Reverberation, a four-year-old chestnut filly by Beau Sabreur (Eng)-*Signature Tune, by Nearco, bred by Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Person, for $5,000.

In between the National Hurdle and the victory of Be A Honey two days later, Allison L. S. Stern's gelding Naval Treaty was an easy seven-length winner in a three-year-old maiden event at a mile and a half. The race might have been closer had not John M. Schiff's Nostal bobbed at the second jump. Flint Schulhofer, making his first appearance of the season at Monmouth, did an excellent job of righting him and Nostal came on in the late stages to finish second. Naval Treaty, who started as an entry with Mrs. Walter F. Wickes, Jr.'s Happy Lion, was one of only four of the 11 starters with hurdle experience. Because of his third-place finish in the Annapolis at Belmont, the entry was an odds-on choice and only Nostal separated them at the finish. The course was mushy after heavy rains and the time was a crawling 2.59 3/5.

THE CHRONICLE

In the Country

IKE LANIER

Mr. Ike Lanier, 72, an Honorary Director of the American Horse Shows Association, died at his home "Grasslands Farm" on June 18th after an extended illness. Mr. Lanier was born in Danville, Kentucky where he lived his entire life. He received his degree in Law at Center College in Danville and later became Chairman of the College Board. He was a member of the Ohio Bar and head of the firm of Lanier, Guy, Walker and Lanier with offices in Cincinnati and Washington.

Mr. Lanier was the first Vice-President of the American Saddle Horse Breeders Association. He was an enthusiastic exhibitor of saddle horses for many years and was possibly best known in this field for his successful stallion Kalarama Colonel. He became a Vice-President and Director of the AHSA in 1941 and served in these capacities as well as on numerous committees until 1960 when he was elected an Honorary Director. (Horse Show)

J. E. O'CONNELL

Joseph Edward O'Connell, of Boston, recently died at the Cardinal O'Connell House of the St. Elizabeth Hospital at the age of 68. He was a nephew of William Cardinal O'Connell after which the building was named. President of the National Shawmut Bank, Mr. O'Connell was an ardent horseman and in 1951 won the A.H.S.A. National Conformation Hunter Championship with My Bill. He later turned his attention to racing and won the Belmont Stakes in 1958 and 1960 with the imported horses Cavan and Celtic Ash.

GUESS WHO?

At the 1932 Foxcroft Horse Show (l. to r.): General Billy Mitchell, Miss Charlotte Noland and Frederick Warburg - the latter (owner of Kiev's Umber) retains his partiality for greys.

PEOPLE DON'T TAKE HORSES TO DOG SHOWS

At horse shows around the country today, a common discussion, besides horses, is dogs! Most of the time this topic is brought about by a scene such as this:

Jane, on her lovely horse, is having a sensational trip over the outside course when all of a sudden from behind a bush near the chicken coop appears that adorable pet of Susie's, barking as if his tail had just been caught in a car door. The horse is quite startled by this incident and before Jane realizes it, he has run out at the coop.

Although this is a fictitious story, surprisingly enough this happens much too frequently at horse shows.

The primary purpose of any horse show is to exhibit our horses, NOT OUR DOGS. Sportsmanship plays a great part in a situation such as this which dog owners are inclined to forget. Everybody should have an equal chance toward winning the blue ribbon, but if your pet, no matter how adorable, interferes with the performance of an exhibitor, it reflects on your sportsmanship.

Remember the often repeated cliche: "People don't take horses to dog shows so why should dogs be taken to horse shows?"

CAPTAIN L. EDMUND

Following the recent death of Captain E. L. Watson, the British Cleveland Bay Horse Society will be represented on the council of the British Horse Society by Captain L. Edmunds of Cholderton, Salisbury. The Cholderton Stud was started by his grandfather. Captain Edmunds bred Cleveland Farnley which sired many Anglo-Cleveland hunters when he stood at Farnley Farm, White Post, Va., from 1935 to 1946.

BUD STOMBOCK

The well-known and much beloved figure in the horse show world, E. P. (Bud) Stombock, died suddenly on Sunday, June 26th. He was the proprietor of Stombock's Saddlery in Washington, D. C., one of the leading establishments of its kind in the country. The business will be carried on by R. D. (Danny) Durham, who has been connected with Stombock's for a number of years.

EUROPEAN JUMPING CHAMPIONSHIP

Under a merciless downpour of rain 35,000 spectators witnessed the crowning of the 1960 European Jumping Champion.

Germany's 23 year old Alwin Schockemoehle won this much coveted event on Bacchus.

He was the only rider out of 15 (with 8 foreign nations participating) to ride this treacherous, slippery course (12 obstacles with 16 jumps) without a fault.

Runners-up were his countryman Pade on Froehlich and Morris (USA) on Night Owl, each 4 faults; Thiedemann (Germany) on Meteor and Steinkraus (USA) on Riviera Wonder, each 8 faults; and Byczewski (Poland) 8 1/4 faults.

HISTORICAL TIDBIT

Included among the material in the Devon Horse Show Press Kit was an item on the history and background of the show. One particular paragraph in the release struck me funny and I thought I'd pass it on to Chronicle readers:

"One of the most interesting features of the 1930 show was a prohibition poll taken at ringside. When all the votes were in it was discovered that the wets outnumbered the followers of Volstead by 1038 to 60, an admirable demonstration of the independence of the average horse show fan."

GREAT AUNT AMELIA

In a recent column in "The Morning Telegraph" devoted to Aidan Roark, former polo player and currently steward at Monmouth Park, Tom O'Reilly says: - "Roark demonstrated his writing ability by regularly contributing one of the most delightful features ever to appear in the famed horse paper, 'The Chronicle', published at Middleburg, Va.

"Roark had previously contributed occasional California racing pieces to The Chronicle. The late Gerry Webb, killed in a timber race at Maryland's Grand National, was managing editor of The Chronicle. Roark wrote him a note saying he needed a check because he wanted to buy a feather boa for his 'great aunt Amelia', an ancient Irish relative who was very keen on fox-hunting over there. This note was so funny that Webb printed it and The Chronicle's beloved 'Great Aunt Amelia' feature was born.

"'Actually, I did have a rather vicious, old aunt back home,' smiled Roark. 'I remember she had a sign, posted on her front gate, that read 'If you are not invited today you are not wanted.' She didn't favour dropping in unexpectedly.'

CHARLTON CLAY

Charlton Clay, one of the veteran Thoroughbred breeders of the Lexington, Kentucky area, and an uncle of A. B. Hancock, Jr., had a narrow escape on June 22nd during a heavy rain storm when a tree fell across the windshield of his car. Although the latter sustained extensive injuries, Mr. Clay miraculously escaped with only a scratched knuckle.

Chronicle Cover

Charlotte S. Bradbury began her career as an artist at the Ad-Art Studio School in Pittsburgh, Pa. She spent some time as a commercial artist, drawing for fashion magazines and department stores. Being an ardent horsewoman she started doing portraits of horses belonging to her friends in the Sewickley Hunt. She then moved to Lexington, Ky., hunted with the Iroquois Hounds and married the manager of Normandy Farm, which started her painting race horses. She acknowledges with gratitude much help from her friends Milton Menasco and Allen Brewer.

EASTERN COMPETITORS AT PEBBLE BEACH

In addition to Michael Page of Briarcliff Manor, N.Y. and Michael Plum of Westbury, Long Island, who placed first and second in the Pebble Beach (California) Three Day Event and were among those selected for the U.S. Three Day Olympic Equestrian Team, competitors previously riding this spring in eastern events included Denis Glaccum of the Jr. Essex Troop (New Jersey) who placed seventh in the Open Division and Sara Willis of Vienna, Va., who placed fourth in the Intermediate Division.

H. G. WINKLER

H. G. Winkler, a virtually certain member of the German Olympic Jumping Team, has decided to withdraw as a candidate for the Three Day Team as well. Both he and his mare Bellona had qualified. He is considering either Siegfried Dehning or August Luetke-Westhues to ride Bellona for him.
